ACHS board members select new principal

By MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Dr. Michael L. Radakovich will assume duties as Antioch Community High School (ACHS) Principal on July 1, 1991. He will succeed retiring ACHS Principal Art Bleke.

"We were looking for an instructional leader and we think he has those qualities," said ACHS Supt. Gary Allen.

Radakovich brings with him more than 17 years experience as a teacher and administrator. The Director of Instruction at Niles Township High School Dist. 219 for the past three and one-half years, he has also worked as a teacher and department chairman in the Glenbrook and Waukegan School systems.

As Director of Instruction, Radakovich supervises teachers and curriculum and organizes in-service training sessions for all staff members in Niles North and Niles South High Schools in Skokie.

"He has a good background," added Allen, "lots of experience in teaching and administrative work."

Radakovich earned his bachelor's degree in social studies and foreign language

'We were looking for an instructional leader and we think he has those qualities;'-ACHS Supt. Gary Allen.

from the University of Kansas in 1971. In 1973, he earned a master's degree in education and administration from Roosevelt University. He earned a doctorate degree in philosophy with an emphasis in social studies education from Northwestern University in 1976.

According to Allen, Radakovich was selected from about 20 candidates to fill the position. Bleke has served as the principal for 19 years, and has been with the school for 25.

"I have heard nothing but good things about this gentleman," said Bleke.

Bonding down for ACHS building plan

By MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Community High School Board of Education approved a resolution decreasing the amount sought in building bonds for construction of a new high school from $32 million to $29.9 million.

"That still is our intention to build a building for $32 million," he said.

According to ACHS Business Manager Ken Wierscem, school officials plan to sell the $29.9 million in bonds to be invested in an interest-earning account. The difference in the interest charged on the bonds and the interest earned through investment, Wierscem expects will account for over $2 million.

"We will earn money on the money while we're waiting to pay," he added.

Prior to the issuance of bonding, the public must voice their approval on the issue in a referendum, April 2. However, financial advisors, specifically bond counsellors and advisors, are being commissioned to explore the options.

If approved, the bonding would have to be spent within a 24-month period. Wierscem anticipates the need to allocate the investments in several stages or split bond issues to allow for disbursement of construction costs as the project progresses.

"We feel we can still get the building built with the $29.9 million bond issue," said ACHS Supt. Gary Allen.

In a related matter, the ACHS Growth and Development committee recommended and the board approved the hiring of the architectural firm of O'Donnell, Wicklund, Pigozzi and Peterson of Deerfield to prepare the educational plan, design and pre-referendum phases of the new school building.

In December, the board approved Polley Field as the site for the new school building. The property is presently owned by the school.

Preserve buy dies

WAUKEGAN — The final decision is in on whether or not the property on the southeast side of Slocum Lake, and possibly even the lake bottom itself would be purchased by the Lake County Forest Preserve. The Lake County Board, by a 17-6 vote, decided to drop the proposed purchase from its list of "designated areas." The site that was designated in 1988 comprised 535 acres and included not only the area around the lake at Rte. 176 and Darrell Rd., but also farm fields in the area that were rumored to be under consideration for development.

High water

FOX LAKE—John Soffiotti, chairman of the Chain O'Lakes-Fox River Water Management Agency, confirmed that Fox River water levels have fluctuated since the annual fall draw down in October due to hydrological studies being conducted by state and federal authorities. Soffiotti said the agency has been assured that the rivers and lakes, controlled by the McHenry Dam, will be at proper spring level to prevent flooding from melting snow. He said agency commissioners are pushing for a later draw down this fall, possibly Nov. 15 to accommodate fall boating.

LG slates filed

LONG GROVE — Two complete slates of three candidates each filed for trustee in the Village of Long Grove. The slates are filed as new political parties so that voters can vote for all three candidates by punching one hole in the voting card on election day, April 2. The slate of the Long Grove Nominating Committee consists of Bruce Klein, incumbent Ray Basso and Walter Metcalf. The Independent Voters of Long Grove slate includes Robert L. Greiner, James Knight and Andrea Shainberg.

Study downtown

MUNDELEIN—Study of the downtown area by a consulting firm could lead to formation of a special financing district to pay for the recommended improvements. The study this spring will focus on revitalizing the area, recommend location for a new supermarket and depot plus other improvements to enhance what was once the village's main business district.

High school flak

LIBERTYVILLE—A special Tuesday, Feb. 26, referendum for a $27.8 million building bond by Libertyville High School is running into stiff opposition. Vernon Hills, which provides up to one-fourth of the students, wants as new high school of its own. Other residents object to the lone item on the upcoming ballot. The school board has organized a 14-member committee to make mailings, presentations and organized telephone calls on behalf of the bond issue.

Gasoline service tells what's in a barrel of oil'

A 42 gallon barrel of oil actually produces 44.03 gallons of oil, according to information being distributed by Riverwoods Automotive Service, Barrington, as Operation Desert Storm begins.

The flyer, containing information entitled "Just What Is A Barrel Of Oil," is being passed out at the Libertyville Mobil, Hwy. 137 and Milwaukee Ave., at the Lincolnshire Automotive Center, a car repair facility in downtown Lincolnshire, and Riverwoods Mobil at Saunders and Deerfield Rds.

Frank Beeman, chief executive officer of Riverwoods Automotive, said a barrel that could contain 42 gallons of oil has been used since the early days as the way to count how much is being pumped from the ground and delivered. Through the cooking and distilling of the oil, its density is reduced with he changed molecules giving us 2.03 gallons more oil without any additives.

The products and number of gallons that come out of a barrel are finished motor oil, 19.50; distillate fuel oil, 8.61; jet fuel, 4.20; residual fuel oil, 2.77; miscellaneous, 2.98; petroleum coke, 1.60; asphalt and road oil, 1.39; liquified gases, 1.43; petrochemical feedstocks, 1.22; kerosene, .25 and finished aviation gasoline, .08.

Beeman said this is the fourth flyer to be passed out at his gasoline and repair facilities since the Mideast crisis began. The information has dealt with the causes of higher pricing, how to save fuel when driving and general information such as in this flyer on what is a barrel of oil. He said this is a subject everyone talks about today but few people understand what constitutes a barrel of oil.

Open spacers make last try to keep Thorngate

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Holly Crandall stood at the back of the meeting room on the 10th floor of the Lake County Building Friday.

Crandall, like many others in the audience section of the room, was wearing a green and yellow t-shirt which asked Lake County Forest Preserve members to keep Thorngate Country Club as open space. Like the other members of the audience, she waited patiently as the minutes dragged on while Forest Preserve members debated the upcoming votes in executive session.

"We have to show our support and that people do care," Crandall said.

At 11 a.m., some 30 minutes after the possible starting time, the commissioners emerged from closed doors. After two more hours of debate, open space advocates left the Lake County building having lost what they spent months to gain - the Thorngate Country Club was de-designated.

The votes were close on all counts and included a differing legal opinion on how many votes were needed to de-designate. In the end, the 12-11 vote stood up. Chairman Andrea Moore ruled that 12 votes were enough and those seeking the de-designation successfully fought back a challenge to the chair.

In addition to the eight-month old Jake, Crandall also has a 10-year-old, who attends Wilmet Elementary School.

"He hopes they keep it open. He can't understand how adults can change their mind," Crandall said.

"Thousands of citizens thought it was a done deal," Cindy Muldoon one of the first to bring up the open space fight, said. "We're hoping you follow through on your commitment."

The golf course, located south of Riverwoods Road, west of Deerfield Rd. near Riverwoods, was the subject of a petition to keep it open. The petitions had some 4,000 signatures from throughout Lake County.

Resident Martha Marks said the vote 9-1 vote among 3,000 homeowners in Riverwoods for $5 million bond issue to keep Thorngate open space was a "tremendous turnout. We in Dist. 1 pay one third of the property taxes for Lake County and the Forest Preserve has not spent one penny to acquire land in our district. Once the land is lost, it is lost forever, and forever is a very long time," Marks said.

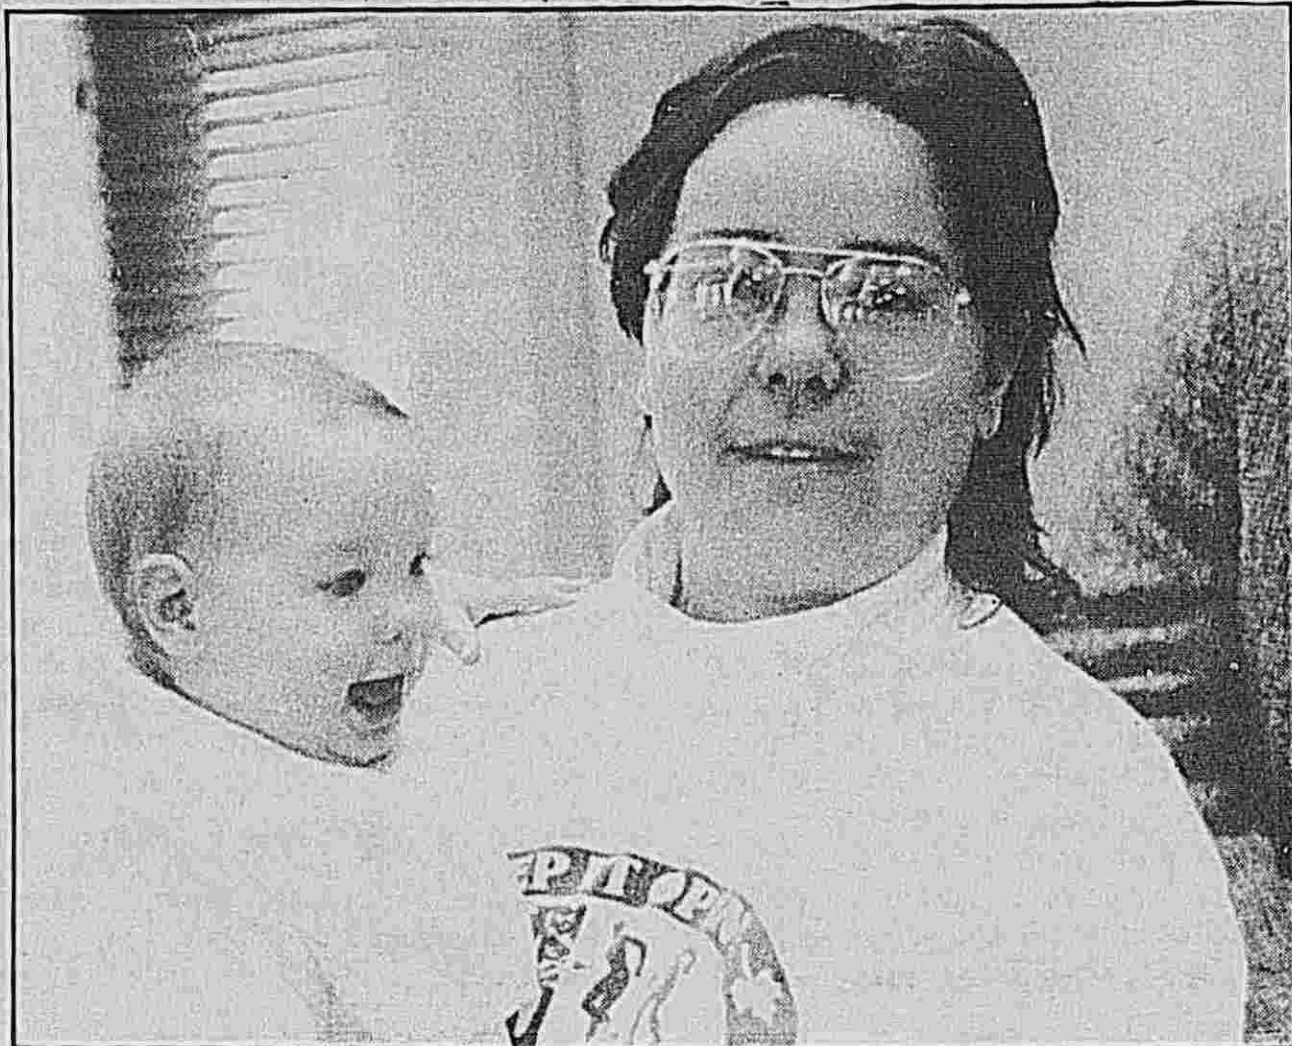

John Schmidt of Lincolnshire pointed out how Thorngate compares to the Lake County framework plan. Lexington Homes, which is planning a housing development for the land "paid a bundle" for it, Schmidt said.

Forest Preserve members were given a handout which showed how Thorngate could become financially feasible. The Forest Preserve's McKay report on the golf course showed the following yearly cash flow for the first five years:

- first year, $1,037,337;
- second year, $1,124,496;
- third year, $1,218,257;
- fourth year, $1,319,106;
- fifth year, $1,427,568.

That was based on $32 green fees and 35,000 rounds a year. The Forest Preserve could then subsidize the first few years and pay fix-up costs with $500,000 of the $5 million contribution from Riverwoods. Then, a 20-year bond issue would service more than $13,200,000 of the debt.

Communities rally in support of troops

By MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

A support group is forming to help ease the tensions of residents whose loved ones are involved in the war in the Persian Gulf. The Lindenhurst Chapter of Chi Epsilon Sorority is inviting relatives, loved ones and anyone with concerns about servicepersons in Operation Desert Storm to a support group meeting, Sunday, Feb. 10, 1 to 3 p.m. at St. Ignatius Episcopal Church, 977 Main St., Antioch. Families and children are encouraged to attend. For more information contact the Rev. Vince Eckholm, 395-0625.

Support is also winding its way around the area in the form of orange ribbons. Project Orange Ribbon, headquartered in the Antioch H&R Block office owned by Pat Dressel, is supplying orange ribbons to individuals, businesses and organizations to display their support for Operation Desert Storm.

Volunteers and concerned residents are responding to the project en masse. To help keep up with the demand for orange ribbons, the Lake Villa/Lindenhurst Girl Scout Service Unit 717 will be taking up the task. Each of the 28 units in Lake Villa School Dist. 41 are being asked to devote one of their February meetings to make ribbons. The ribbons will be distributed with a brief explanation of their meaning during the scouts annual door-to-door cookies sales campaign. Participation in the project is at the discretion of the scouts and their parents.

Members of Chi Epsilon are crusading the neighborhood with giant orange bands to tie around trees and lamp posts. They are planning to drive throughout the area, stopping at each home displaying an American flag.

Antioch VFW Post 4551 Commander is hoping to demonstrate the public's support by organizing a public rally.

"We're going to hope to get some sort of support rally going," he said, "we're with our troops all the way, we're supporting them all the way."

Government offices are also getting behind the troops. The Antioch Village Board of Trustees officially acknowledged their support of Operation Desert Shield and will begin each meeting with a moment of silence for the troops.

Flags and orange ribbons are flying on the entire fleet of Lake Villa's U.S. Post Office delivery vehicles.

At the Antioch Post Office, postal employee Valerie Sikorski reports that letters and packages sent to the Operation Desert Storm are reaching their destination in three days.

"They are giving them exceptional service," said Sikorski, who had received grateful acknowledgement from parents of GI's in the Persian Gulf who had received care packages prior to the Jan. 15 deadline for war.

Mailing volume has remained steady since the onset of the war. Sikorski makes it a point to post the letters and packages with special "LOVE" stamps.

Sentiment in opposition of the war has thus far remained quiet. Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller says he has heard of no reports of anti-war demonstrations requiring police intervention or patrol.

Christmas is staying around a little longer this year at the Roy house in Antioch. The family's Christmas tree, cut from a Michigan farm, is growing. ## Dist. 34 study pinpoints school classroom needs

By MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch School Dist. 34 Supt. Dr. Donald Skidmore is projecting that two or three additional classrooms will be needed for the 1991-92 school year. The board of education is studying alternatives for accommodating the additional space needs, and are expected to decide on a plan at their regular February meeting.

According to a study conducted by Skidmore, the in-district enrollment for the 1991-92 school year will total 1,892 students. This figure includes an estimated 27 children attending special education classes outside the district, but does not include 18 SEDOL students housed in the district. The present enrollment figure is 1,822, an increase of 80 from November.

"We've had fairly well defined growth that is predicted in the last three or four years here," said Skidmore.

Skidmore is recommending the following faculty staff additions: first grade teacher at Oakland, first grade teacher at Antioch Lower Grade, half-day kindergarten teacher at Oakland, half-day kindergarten teacher at Antioch Lower Grade, physical education teacher for grades K-5, possible third grade teacher at Antioch Lower Grade School.

Pursuant to the plan, two kindergarten aide positions would be dropped, as would one section of fourth grade due to a significant drop in grade four enrollment.

To accommodate the growth in terms of building and classroom space, several options are being explored. Existing space presently used for programs such as music or simply for storage, may be converted into teaching space. Consequently, the music program would be operated on a portable basis from classroom to classroom. The feasibility of mobile classrooms is also being examined.

Skidmore is supporting Antioch Community High School in its bid to construct a new facility. Use of the existing high school building for the lower grades could alleviate many space problems.

Antioch ordinance revision reroutes chain of command

The Antioch Village Board of Trustees approved a revision to an ordinance outlining the bureaucracy pertaining to police matters.

Under the revision which was proposed by Trustee Donald Amundsen, rules and regulations made by the police chief at his discretion will be binding upon the approval of the village administrator. Subsequently, the matters will go before the board of trustees for review and final approval.

The revision takes the power of initial approval away from the village president and places it with the village administrator.

Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton had proposed a revision whereby the police chief would be required to present any changes to rules and regulations to the village board in writing.

According to Trustee Marilyn Shineflug, the action brings up the question of the definitions of rules, regulations and directives which will be discussed at a future date.

Action on an ordinance revision delineating the village administrator as "chief administrative officer" of the village, was tabled pending further review.

Eight vie for village posts

Eight candidates have filed nomination papers for three Antioch Village Board of Trustee positions up for election April 2.

Filing under the name "The Unity Party" were Amundsen, Weber and Dorothy Larson.

Individual candidates are Koziorowski, Vernon Burdick, Anastasios "Taso" Maravelas, Wayne Foresta and Mary Lou Eckert.

A lottery will be held, Monday, Jan. 28 to determine the order of Koziorowski and Burdick's names, as each filed at the same time.

Names newsletter

Antioch Community High School offers new course

Beginning with the 1991-92 school year, Antioch Community High School's Technology Department will offer for the first time, a new course, Principles of Technology. Principles of Technology is a practical, applied course in physics and mathematics designed especially for students interested in technical careers and for other students to whom emphasis on the application of the physical principles underlying modern technology appeals more than a theoretical approach.

Careers in advanced technology are expanding and changing every day, while skilled technicians are commanding salaries as high or higher than those of many college graduates. It is more important than ever before for Antioch Community High School to prepare tenth through twelve grade students to adapt to technological change.

In Principles of Technology, units will be presented over a one-year period. Students will progress from units on force, work, rate, resistance, energy, power, and force transformers. Throughout the course, video segments present the concepts and illustrate many of their industrial applications.

St. Peter to register students

Families presently enrolled may register immediately after the 9:30 a.m. Mass. Because some grades are close to our numerical limit, it is important that everyone register now!

Every family must register including those (presently) attending St. Peter School. Registration is not official unless the $25 registration fee (non-refundable) per family, is paid.

First graders and new students must present a copy of their baptismal or birth certificate. First graders must be 6 years of age on or before Sept. 1.

St. Peter School is hosting an Open House from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Feb. 3.

Drug prevention topic of program

The Antioch Community High School Student Assistance Program will be offering a parenting course, "Preparing for the Drug (Free) Years" for parents of students in grades four through seven. During four, two-hour workshops, parents will be advised about drug problems and techniques which may be used to reduce the risk that children will develop a drug problem.

The program will begin on Wednesday, Feb. 20, 7 to 9 p.m. at Antioch Community High School in Room 155. The series concludes, Wednesday, March 13.

Cost for the program is $15 which covers eight hours of instruction and a copy of "Preparing for the Drug (Free) Years: A Family Activity Book."

Space is limited. Registration will be taken by mail on a first received basis. For further information call Cathy Cratty or Tom Baba, 395-1421.

dents and board members to the Board of Education and the public at a meeting, Jan. 14.

The results offer feedback on attitudes towards the school and ideas for the future of the district. Nearly all the staff, board and students in grades four through eight responded, as well as almost 70 percent of the parents.

According to a report prepared by the Board of Education, the survey suggested that children are receiving a quality education, there is a strong level of pride in the school, and the continuation of Emmons School is very important to the respondents.

Based upon the information collected, the board is developing plans for the future of the school. Also under consideration is the increased growth and development in the community and the resulting problems.

The board is planning the development of a steering committee to prepare a mission statement. Parent and staff volunteers are encouraged to serve on the steering committee.

Genelle Elise Lengvenis was born at 4:27 a.m. on Dec. 26 at Northern Ill. Medical Center in McHenry. She weighed in at seven pounds, nine ounces. Sue and Harry were already given a chance to baby-sit and enjoyed the experience very much. On Monday, Jan. 14, Glenn and Lori Bednar became the proud parents of an eight pound, two ounce baby girl. Heather Rose Bednar made her way into the world at Victory Memorial Hospital at 11:35 a.m. and big brother, Philip, is very excited to have a new baby sister. Congratulations to the Lengvenis and the Bednar families on the births of their respective daughters.

Don't You Know

Once again, "out of the mouths of babes!" As we sat at Camp Crayon, Miss Marie posed a question to the little ones, "what did mom get for Christmas?" At first the students had a hard time coming up with just what it was that dear old mom received (after all, Christmas is for kids). However, they eventually caught on and we heard such responses as, a new coat, perfume, golden necklaces, hat, glue gun, new dishes, candy, etc. When the question reached little Jeremy Haley, he quickly told us what his mom received. Sitting next to Jeremy was his twin brother, Joey Haley. Miss Marie thanked Jeremy for his response and then asked Joey "and what did your mom get for Christmas?" Joey gave her a quizzical look, hesitated, with Jeremy's answer."

Robot teaches value of human 'machine'

Foobie, a 600 pound robot is making the rounds of Lake Villa, Lindenhurst and Antioch Schools urging students to lead healthy, drug-free lives.

The program is called the Million Dollar Machine, not in reference to the android, but the invaluable human body.

Teachers follow up Foobie's instruction with a complete curriculum which is used throughout the school year. Using interactive activities, lessons and worksheets, students explore self-esteem, teamwork, decision making, environmental skills, drug awareness, refusal skills and human potential.

Leading drug use prevention consultants developed the curriculum over the past three years. The consultants include Columbia University psychologist, Dr.

Steven Schinke, who will work with ACHS Student Assistance Coordinator Cathy Cratty in evaluating the program's effectiveness.

Funding for the program is provided from the Alcohol and Drug Education Initiative Grant from the Illinois State Board of Education. The remainder of the cost is contributed by the Antioch Rotary Club, Antioch Lions Club and First Chicago.

In November, 1989, President George Bush recognized the program's effectiveness with a Presidential Award for Private Sector Initiatives.

Since its introduction, over 500,000 students have been using the curriculum. Many children already know Foobie from his role on the NBC-TV show "Silver Spoons."

Sea of orange ribbons support Desert Storm

By MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

The orange brigade is growing in numbers and has a message for the troops fighting the war in the Middle East, they're behind them and want them to know it.

Orange has been selected as the color signifying support for the troops involved in Operation Desert Storm. Ribbons of that hue are cropping up in schools and businesses, on car antennas and lapels, around trees and lamp posts.

Project Orange Ribbon, originated through the Department of Illinois Ladies Auxiliaries, is sweeping through the Lake County area largely through the efforts of sisters Pat Dressel and Barbara Weteska, both of Round Lake Beach, Weteska's niece Michelle Nelson and daughter Rachelle Dubish.

"It's really going good we can't believe the response we've been getting," said Dressel.

Base camp for the project has been set up at the H&R Block office, 388 Lake St., Antioch, which Dressel owns with her husband, Richard. Small orange ribbons are available to anyone wishing to bear a sign of their support.

On a broader scale, the project coordinators are seeking the involvement of municipal and school district officials, business owners and community service and scout troops.

Donations are also being accepted for the purchase of supplies specifically requested by g.i.'s in the desert. Included in the list are: eye drops, lip balm, pre-sweetened soft drink mix, panty hose (which protects equipment from sand), pre-moistened towelettes, cotton swabs, bobby pins, toiletries, small size travel games.

Donations may be dropped off or mailed to the H&R Block office. Checks should be made payable to the Ladies Auxiliary VFW Post 2004.

Individuals wishing to send supplies or correspondence directly to the troops can address them as follows:

- *For fleet troops:

In addition, Dressel is offering free income tax service for servicemen and women serving in the Persian Gulf. Family members must bring in all financial documentation and verification of service in Operation Desert Shield.

For further information on Project Orange Ribbon, call 395-6230.

We need to be told

An aching realization is settling in that hopes for a swift and sure conclusion to war in the Persian Gulf may not be possible in light of the resolve and resources of the Iraqi enemy.

Where does that leave Americans, considering that a majority of the population originally supported the use of military force on the premise that a prolonged engagement similar to Vietnam could be avoided?

Certainly, all of us feel "close" to the hostilities through the marvels of electronic transmission of events and the escalation of manpower needs by the military that hardly has left any family untouched. Now the threat of terrorist attacks in the U.S. means that innocent civilians are in harm's way as well.

There already are indications that anti-war feelings will become intensified the longer fighting continues. The specter of 1960's style violence already is looming. Events are demanding that our leaders enunciate more clearly the reasons for the U.S. presence in the Middle East while at the same time pursuing every possible avenue for peace.

We know full well that a keystone of Saddam Hussein's aggression is the conviction that the U.S. does not "have the stomach" for prolonged fighting. At this point, along with what's happening, Americans need a clearer picture of why the fighting started, what is the price of patience and how world affairs will be shaped when the war ends.

Thinking small is big

Developments like Gurnee Mills, acknowledged as the world's largest outlet mall, don't come along very often. The sprawling retail center is getting ready for a VIP inspection tour Feb. 5 and will be open for business sometime later this year.

More often, retail development is along the lines of small shops, boutiques in modern parlance or "mom and pop" stores in down-to-earth language. There's nothing wrong with a business center made up of lively, well managed retail shops.

The Gurnee Mills of the world are few and far between. Small is beautiful when it comes to business growth and development. Local officials working on economic development are far better off seeking small businesses than chasing the giants.

In Illinois, small business enterprises create more than 90 percent of the new jobs statewide, according to Illinois Chamber of Commerce figures. The 200,000 small businesses in the state employ six out of every 10 workers in a total workforce of 5.6 million men and women.

The state Chamber is calling for legislative leaders to take special steps to protect small businesses. Together, the "mom and pops" are a vital resource not only in our town but throughout the state. We couldn't get along without them.

Letters to the Editor

Wear yellow ribbon

Editor:

Recently I have been in Florida and Tennessee and everywhere I traveled I saw yellow ribbons tied on mail boxes, trees, etc., to show support for our troops in Desert Shield Operation. Illinois also has many servicemen and women serving in the Persian Gulf area, so let's show them we support them and tie on those yellow ribbons!

We all hope and pray that somehow this war can be averted, and if everyone would write a letter to a service member now in the Middle East and let them know we care, it will really boost their morale!

Address your letters to: (for Army, Air Force or Marine Corp personnel ashore) Any Service Member, Operation Desert Shield, A.P.P. New York 09848-0006.

For Navy and Marine Corps personnel aboard ship: Any Service Member, Desert Shield Operation, FPO New York 09866-0006.

Quelling war critics

Editor:

To those who say no to our nation being in the Middle East, stop and think for a moment where we would be without gasoline and oil. I suggest they go to Pennsylvania where there are Quakers who travel by horse and buggy, and use candles for light. Let critics live without oil for six months and I assure you that they will shut up.

Support troops with flags

Editor:

My sister, who lives in Hoffman Estates, started a support the troops campaign. I hope the media will zero in on the campaign which will, no doubt, spread. Linda Collins simply put up her American flag. The next day four more flags went up on her street. Now the street is lined with them.

We in Wauconda showed our religious freedom, with crosses at Christmas. Wouldn't this cause (our country support, our troop support) be an important one?!

The price of gas is not the big reason for American involvement, how naive.

If Hitler was stopped, at the point at which Hussein is as now, well, our history books would read very, very differently. Humanity is the most important, valid reason to stop a dictator. Think about it. Worried about changing your mind? Or your opinion? How fortunate we Americans are to have an opinion, and to voice it!

"Support our troops, display your flag."

Destroying wetlands

Editor:

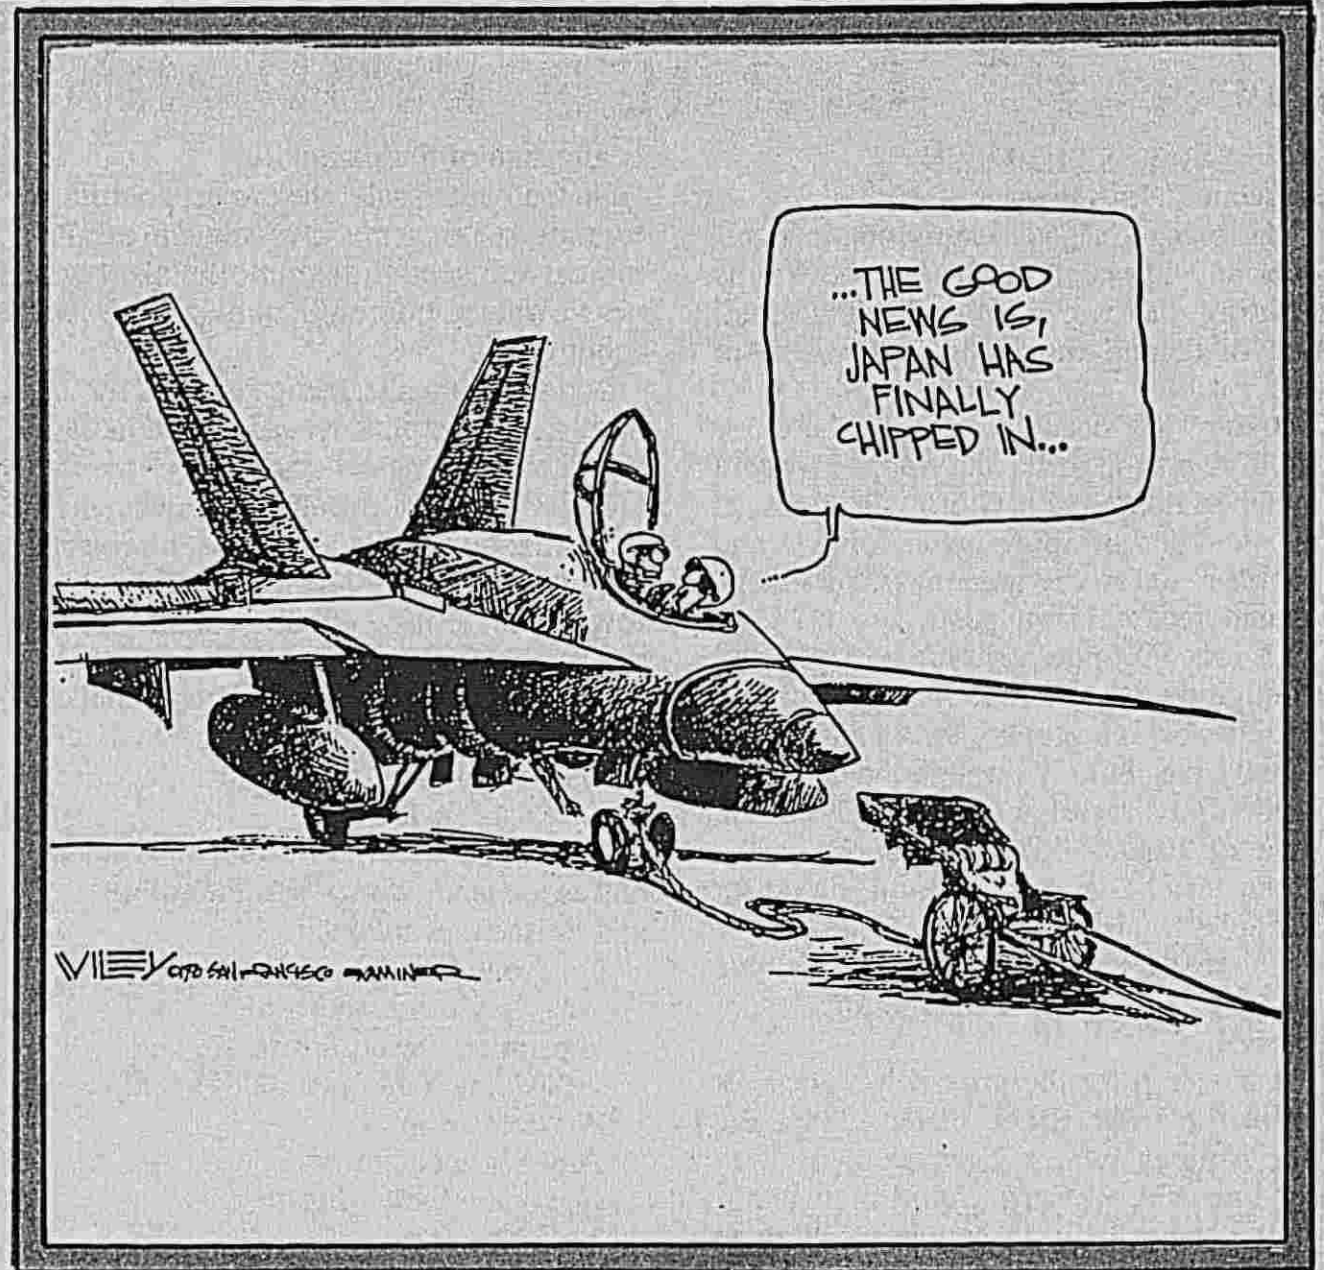

Richard J. Brown of Cambridge Homes, will not give up any buildable acreage to provide for stormwater detention, as is the case of the proposed College Trails development which lies west of the College of Lake County along Washington Rd.

Instead Brown will apply to the Army Corps of Engineers for a permit to mitigate a high quality of wetland adjoining the Avon-Freemont drainage ditch to store stormwater for that development. Certainly the need for water detention is understandable, but not at the cost of a wetland.

Every governmental agency sends out educational information on the importance of preserving and protecting our wetlands to aid wildlife and water quality. Where is the enforcement?

Grayslake's environment cannot afford anymore wetland loss. Particularly along our ditch.

Find new hope for Ft. Sheridan cemetery plan

by BILL SCHROEDER

As war clouds were gathering in the Persian Gulf, Ed and Dolores Mulcahy became more determined than ever in their more than two year quest to establish a national cemetery at Ft. Sheridan.

The Antioch couple has helped organize the Concerned Citizens for the Acquisition of Ft. Sheridan as a final resting place for those who have served their nation in uniform. The Mulcahys are convinced that locating a cemetery at the venerable military installation deemed for oblivion by the Pentagon is appropriate and necessary.

They hardly blinked when the Ft. Sheridan Commission sponsored by Congressman John Porter voted to eliminate a national cemetery from a list of possible uses.

"That didn't mean a thing," declared Dolores, a feisty ex-Chicagoan who has contacts all over the nation with citizens who share the views of the Mulcahys. "The commission vote doesn't count," retorted Dolores curtly.

What counts is the support of thousands of Americans and the ear of highly placed officials in Washington, one of them being Edwin Derwinski, the former southside congressman who now is secretary of Veterans Affairs.

The Mulcahys are asking all citizens of a like mind to contact their representatives in congress and write other officials in support of the cemetery plan. Ed, a Marine Corps veterans with service during the Korean War, recently turned over a petition containing 3,500 signatures to Rep. Phil Crane. Thomas Fitzgerald of the Antioch VFW helped with the signature drive. You can call Ed and Dolores at 395-5831 until 4 p.m. and 395-4664 after 6 p.m. if you'd like to lend a hand.

Noting that most of the organization's support is centered in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana, Dolores is buoyed by a favorable report from federal environmental aides. "Ft. Sheridan is an ideal spot for a national cemetery," repeated Dolores, who now has Porter's ear. "He called us personally," she reported proudly.

There ought to be sufficient space at the nearly 700 acre military installation to locate a cemetery and still leave open space for other worthwhile public uses. The Mulcahys are certain they are on a path to success.

Ex-jocks support Oil X-Change venture

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Eleven runs, eleven hits and — hopefully — no errors.

That's the linescore so far for Oil X-Change, a car-service venture initiated by former Chicago Cubs catcher and Philadelphia Phillies manager John Felske and John Bieneman Jr., a former college and semi-pro baseball player and coach.

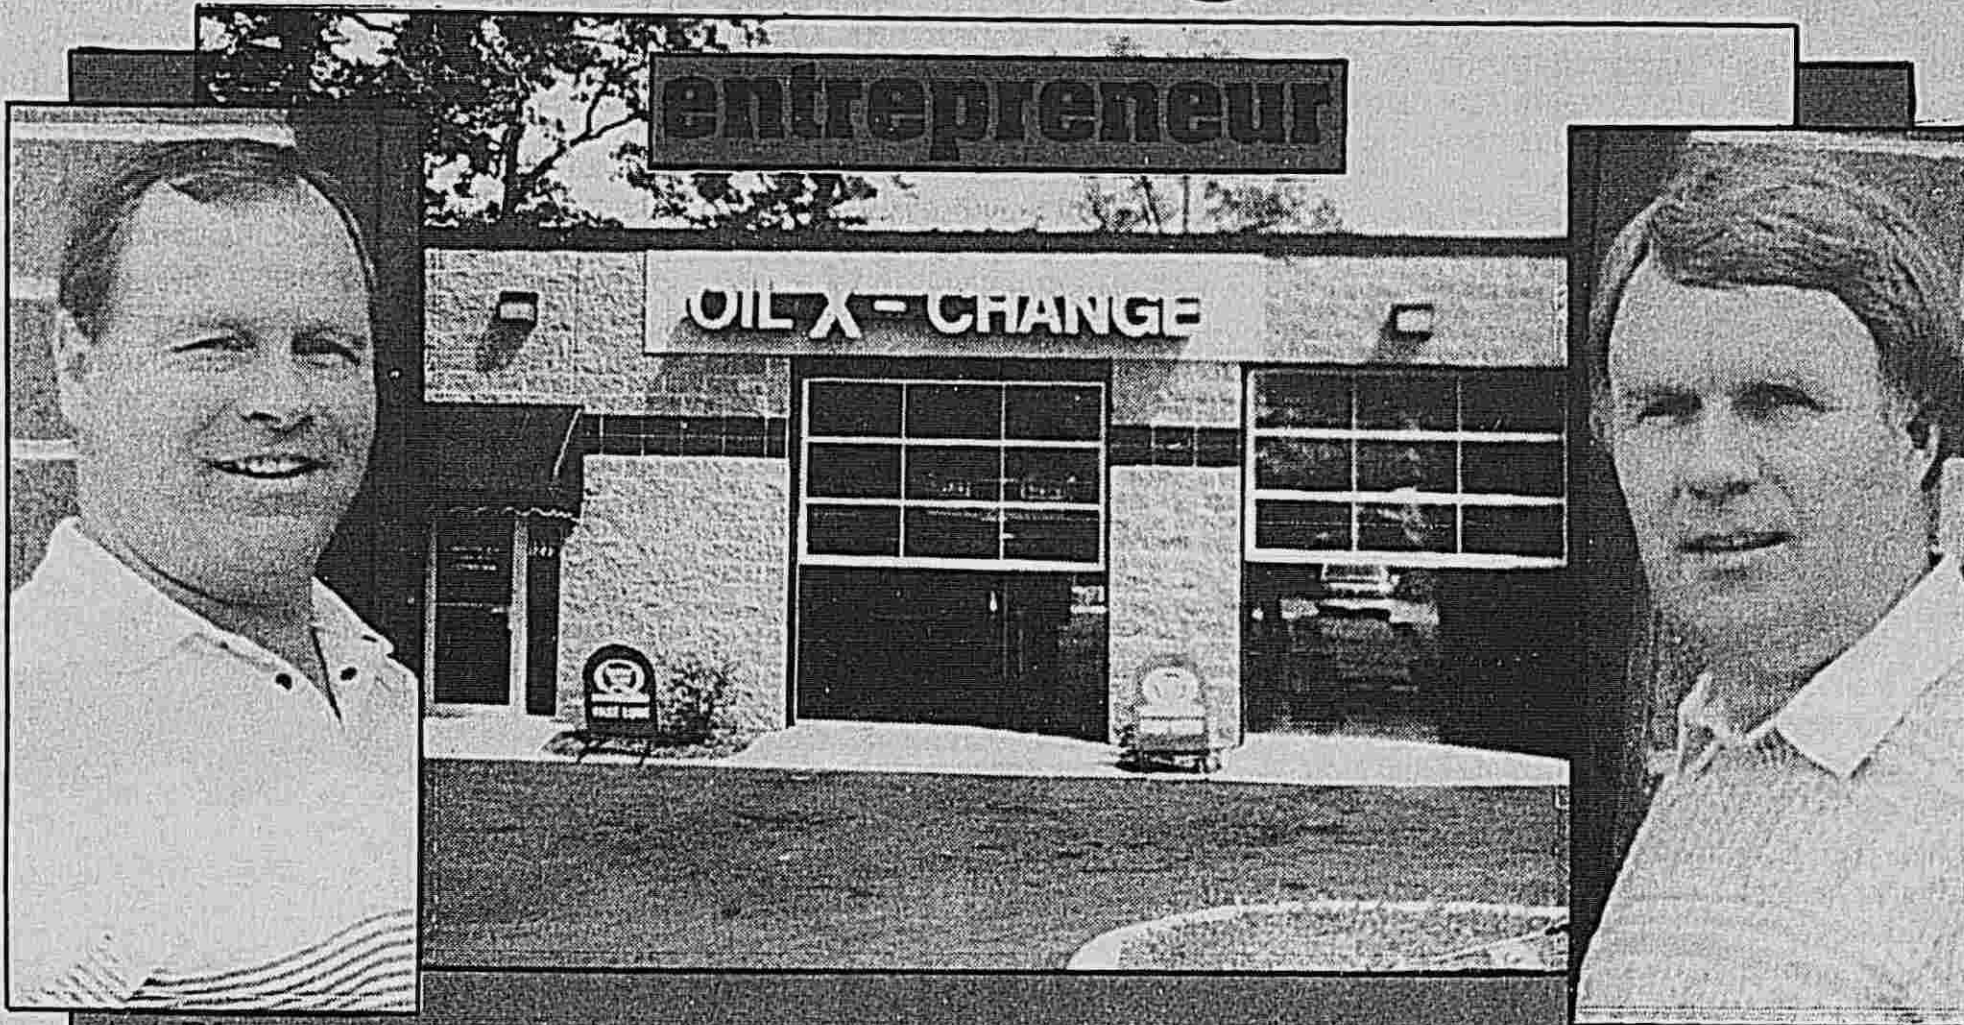

Oil X-Change, which is based in Wauconda, currently has 11 stores in place. Three of the stores — in Woodridge, Schaumburg and Crystal Lake — are company owned. Six of the stores — Round Lake Beach, DeKalb, Warrenville, Loves Park, Aurora and Beloit, Wis. — are franchised. And two additional outlets — in McHenry and Kenosha, Wis. — are set to open this spring.

The Oil X-Change special offers an oil change and chassis lubrication; the checking and filling of other fluids and tire pressure; and the inspection of lighting systems, radiator hoses, shocks, exhaust systems, brake lines, oil lines, tire wear, fan belts and front-end alignment. There also are transmission and differential specials. Customers can choose a brand of oil from among several top name brands.

Competition in the quick-oil-change and lubrication business is fierce, so Felske and Bieneman know they have to throw some breaking stuff at the opposition.

"Most companies use pits, and we use lifts," Felske explained. "We do that for several reasons."

"The customer's going to be able to see that he's getting his money's worth — that we are indeed doing all those things he's paying for. We've got nothing to hide."

Art Bieneman

John Felske

"With the operation all on one level, the manager can see everything that's going on. That makes it easier for the franchisee to see that everything's being done right."

"And cleanliness," Felske added. "Our stores are extremely clean."

An Oil X-Change customer is greeted by an employee in the "prep area." After the customer has given instructions, he or she may relax in a waiting room or go along a walkway and watch the service being performed.

"It's like a carwash," Felske said. "The customer can see and have access to viewing everything."

Although Bieneman and Felske didn't begin devoting their full-time energies to the business until 1987, the long-time friends are actually pioneers in the specialty and speedy oil-change business in Illinois.

During a trip to California in 1977, Felske saw a clean, bright store that offered the sole service of changing automotive oil.

"I came back and told Art I saw something we should get involved with," Felske said. "About that time, Illinois was going into self-service gas stations. I just knew customer service and personal attention would disappear, but people still had to get their oil changed."

Bieneman — with a little automotive experience — and Felske — who'd "never touched a car" in his life — went to a small-business exposition in Chicago. When the oil-change representatives didn't show, they bought a $15 manual about the business.

They started by renting bays from stations that had converted to the self-service, mini-mart concept. Within three years, they were operating three such "stores," but a turning point came when the buildings were either torn down or modernized.

"We had to take a look at what we were doing," Felske said. "Business was good, and more people were getting involved in it. We could either stay or get out."

They decided to stay.

Although both were holding down full-time jobs in '85, they opted to start over with three free-standing stores of their own design.

A second turning point for Oil X-Change came in 1985 when Felske and the Phillies parted ways.

"I had had my winters open, and Art had his summers open," Felske said. "But Art was taking up a lot of the slack. I came home and looked at where we were, and we both made a commitment to get into it full time."

One of the first things they did was go under the tutelage of Francorp, a consultation firm.

"It was a big investment, but well worth it," Felske said. "We knew we had a good idea, but we had to make it more professional."

Bieneman and Felske are looking for good people and good locations for additional franchises.

Flexible universal investments replace IRAs

by ALAN NADOLNA

Funds can be deposited into a Universal Life contract and later withdrawn to provide a tax-free accumulation account with an excellent interest rate and degree of safety. Universal Life policies have been structured to serve as replacements for those no longer eligible for an IRA.

There are hundreds of Universal Life policies available today. Since the policy is so flexible, it is important that care be exercised in deciding which policy is best.

This has become a more complicated financial decision than once was required of the insurance buyer. Comparison of policies has become increasingly difficult because there are so many variables to consider.

Policies are developed by combining insurance coverage with investment vehicles and administrative expenses. No one product or company is superior in every situation. The same individual should buy product A under one set of circumstances and product B under another. Professional guidance is extremely important.

A major decision requires not only an analysis of the proposed policy and the existing contract(s), but a consideration of the potential tax ramifications of the exchange. This can be a very beneficial procedure for the insurance buyer if it is properly handled.

Up until the early 1980s life insurance was a pretty dull topic of conversation and consideration. There was term insurance and there was whole life. While whole life and term were available in a number of forms, the basics were the same, life insurance provided a death benefit for a premium. Despite significant tax benefits, life insurance was not seriously considered as an investment vehicle.

All of this has changed with the introduction and development of Universal Life insurance contracts. Insurance buyers now have a product that can provide a flexible form of life insurance protection along with an excellent investment opportunity.

Life insurance protection is more important today than ever before. Estate tax rates are extremely high and likely to increase, and the cost of raising a family shows the same pattern. In difficult economic times, buyers are selective about expenditures, and there is a natural hesitance to buy a product that "only pays when I die."

Universal Life has provided a financial product that does what many thought was not possible. It provides a life insurance

It provides a method for changing older forms of inefficient life insurance into new Universal Life policies, for increasing benefits without purchasing a new contract. Benefits can also be reduced. Premiums can be structured to meet the needs of the buyers, and can be skipped completely if necessary for periods of time. In one form, insureds can determine where premium dollars are invested from among a number of alternatives.

Investment returns on Universal Life policies have consistently been higher than certificates of deposit, money markets and other conservative investment options.

benefit at a lower cost than was previously available with other forms of life insurance. It provides a source of tax-free income if the insured decides to use the policy values for this purpose.

Lakefront view attracts buyers to Sandy Point

When he stands in the model home at Sandy Point on Lake Zurich, developer Richard Sova, president of Landover Corp., likes to tell customers, "The house is free. The view costs $200,000."

Each of the development's 36 townhomes and flats is built on the edge of Lake Zurich, a private 235-acre lake in the northwest suburban village of the same name.

When the model opened last month, two-thirds of the homes already were sold.

"Sandy Point offers a unique opportunity to have your primary home in a vacation-like setting," said Sova. "Each home comes with a boat slip, so fishermen, water-skiers or sailors have the luxury of enjoying the water seven days a week."

"Lake Zurich is among the top five cleanest lakes in Illinois," added Sova, "and because the lake waters are privately owned, it is not a busy lake."

Sandy Point features four floor plans—two 2-story townhomes and two ranch-style condominiums. The homes range in size from a 1,450-square-foot, two-bedroom unit to a three-bedroom home with more than 3,000 square feet.

In each model the living room, dining room and master bedroom suite have lake views. Each master bath features a six foot tub and separate shower, double-bowl vanity and walk-in closet. The kitchen comes with a built-in microwave, self-cleaning oven/range, dishwasher and refrigerator.

The home offer separate dining areas, large patios, fireplaces, central air, attached garages and luxury finishes, including fire-suppression sprinkler systems. Certain homes come with a full walk-out basement to which can be added a screened porch.

The development will have its own private beach highlighted with a gazebo overhanging the lake. There also will be a boat launch, piers and walking paths for the use of the residents.

Prices range from the $190,000s to the mid-$300,000s, and include the boat slips. Monthly assessments average $142. Construction should be completed by spring 1990.

Johnston Associates is the architect for the project, while the Brickman Group is the landscape architect. Pepper Construction is the general contractor.

Sandy Point is located on Rte. 12, 1/2 mile north of Hwy. 22. The sales office is open 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturdays and Sundays. For appointments at other times, call (708) 540-9666.

Sandy Point condominiums are selling quickly.

want people who want to get involved," Felske said. "The business needs attention — you can't just open the doors and walk away. We want people who are aggressive. These people are going to represent our company."

"Money is not always the issue," Bieneman said.

That's one reason the pair isn't waiting on a call from the dugout.

"We're moving forward at whatever speed we're at," Felske said. "We're not just interested in putting up franchises."

"With us, the franchisor and franchisee are on an even footing. We have a tremendous investment in buildings and land."

Bieneman said they've learned to be flexible: "We've realized there are things you can control and things you can't control."

Bieneman emphasized that Oil X-Change is not a supplier.

"We want the franchisees to be able to buy products at the absolutely best price available. And if we became suppliers, we'd have to become warehousemen too, and they'd be paying for that."

Bieneman, 47, and Felske, 48, are both Chicago natives.

Bieneman played college baseball at Miami of Ohio. He met Felske while playing semi-pro ball in 1962. Bieneman was a physical education teacher and coach in Chicago for 17 1/2 years.

Felske was at the University of Illinois when he signed with the Cubs' organization. He spent seven seasons with the Cubs, making it to the "big" in 1968. Felske managed the Phillies for two-and-a-half seasons (1985-87).

"I think coaching helped us with dealing with people," Felske said. "We're both very competitive and we don't mind the long hours it takes to build a business. We like the challenge of it."

"Art and I sometimes look at each other and ask, 'Why didn't we do this 10 years ago?'"

Northern Ill. Medical Center wins certificate of need approval

Northern Ill. Medical Center (NIMC) is on schedule with its major building and renovation program. The extensive project, which will approximate $5.5 million in construction costs, includes three distinct elements: installation of a Cardiac Catheterization Suite adjoining the Surgery Dept. (this space currently occupied by Medical Records); a single-story addition to the southwest side of the hospital, under 5,000 square feet, to house Medical Records after it is relocated; and a two-story, 30,000 square foot addition to the south side of the hospital. Reorganization of existing first floor areas impacting an outpatient services, and additional parking space are included in the project.

Since 1984, outpatient surgery at NIMC has jumped 122 percent, and according to Laudick, "This accounts for a little more than 50 percent of our surgery caseload. We have to accommodate this significant increase to make it as easy and comfortable as possible for patients to use our outpatient surgery and other outpatient services.

"When this building opened six years ago, there were 1,081 outpatient surgery procedures throughout 1984. In the past year, we had 2,398 outpatient surgery procedures. Backing this up, other outpatient services that may or may not be related to surgery also have increased dramatically," Laudick said.

While most hospital procedures that once were solely done on an inpatient basis can still be handled that way under emergency or special circumstances, the trend today is to do as many procedures as possible as outpatients. This is due to changes in federal and third party payor (insurance companies) reimbursement and skyrocketing costs in health care.

At NIMC, outpatient services include: medical imaging (radiology); nuclear medicine; CT scans; ultrasound; electrocardiograms; electroencephalograms; electromyography; physical therapy; occupational therapy; speech therapy; audiology; and cardiac rehabilitation.

In 1984, when the new hospital building opened on

Rte. 31, NIMC was doing 8,938 outpatient procedures each year, and the numbers kept going up until 1989 with a record 29,019 total for last year.

The rapid changes in health care technology and population growth (McHenry County is the fastest growing area in the State of Illinois), resulted in an inefficient flow in the outpatient process, with small adaptations alleviating some of the problems, but unable to address the significant number of changes the hospital wanted to make.

"The trend is now definitely in the outpatient direction," Laudick continued, "and we had to grow and adapt to be responsive to our patients."

The interior renovation will make outpatient registration and access to services easier and more efficient. The Cardiac Catheterization Suite introduces sophisticated heart procedures previously not done at NIMC, and requiring traveling long distances for patients needing advanced diagnostic cardiac care.

Architects for the project are O'Donnell, Wicklund, Pigozzi and Peterson of Deerfield. December, 1991 is the scheduled completion date.

Northgate offers roomy three-bedroom homes

For many homebuyers, three bedrooms is enough. But fewer bedrooms does not mean less living space in the Northgate at the Hawthorn Club in Vernon Hills.

"We designed the Northgate so the living room, dining room and family room are as large as those found in our four-bedroom homes," said Al Goodman, senior vice president of Wheeling-based United Developments Homes. "Many buyers want ample space for living and entertaining but need only three-bedrooms."

Located adjacent to the Vernon Hills Golf Course, the Hawthorn Club is a 146-acre community of 257 Classic Homes and 73 Estate Homes.

Five, three-and four-bedroom Classic home floor plans range in size from 1,893 to 2,272 square feet and are priced from $179,900 and $215,900.

The 1,910-square-foot Northgate has three bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, a full basement and two-car garage. The two-story Classic Home is priced from $184,900.

Other amenities standard in the Hawthorn Club Classic Homes are wall-to-wall carpeting, central air conditions, wood handrails and balusters, glass-lined 50 gallon water heaters, gas forced air heating and copper water pipes. Energy conserving insulation is R-13 in the walls and R-30 in ceilings.

Sales center hours are from noon to 8 p.m. Monday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. Call (708)816-1496 for further information.

Several tips to save on auto premiums

When it comes to saving money on consumer purchases, insurance is no exception. In fact, the Insurance Information Institute has 17 ways to save money on auto insurance.

1. Deductibles: Choosing the largest reasonable deductible is one way of reducing premiums. (The deductible is the amount of a claim the insured agrees to pay).

Raising the collision deductible to $500 from $200 could lower the collision portion of the premium about 20 percent. Raising the deductible to $1,000 from $200 could reduce the premium about 45 percent. Discounts may vary by company. Consumers should ask themselves if they could afford to pay the higher deductible in the event of a claim.

2. Collision coverage: Older cars, at least seven years of age, may not be worth as much money because of depreciation. Consequently, old cars may not be worth insuring for collision.

3. Desirable cars: Consumers shopping for a new car should keep insurance costs in mind. Premiums usually are higher for autos with high collision or bodily injury claims severity and frequency, or that are the common target of thieves.

4. Multi-car discount: Consumers insuring more than one car in the household with the same insurer can save up to 20 percent.

5. Insuring young drivers: It is generally cheaper to insure young drivers on their parents' policy rather than separately when young people are away at school. This is because young drivers who attend school at least 100 miles from home are infrequent users of the family car.

6. Mature driver credit: Drivers aged 50 and older may qualify for up to a 10 percent discount. The discount may vary by company. Statistics show that older drivers are involved in fewer accidents.

7. Passive restraints: Some companies offer discounts ranging from 10 to 30 percent for vehicles equipped with automatic seat belts and air bags.

8. Good driver discounts: Savings are available to motorists with accident and violation-free records, and to motorists driving fewer than a certain number of miles per year. Discounts vary by company.

9. Car pooling: Commuters who share driving responsibilities may qualify for discounts.

10. Education: Motorists who successfully complete driver training or defensive driving courses may be eligible for discounts of as much as 10 percent.

Young drivers could qualify for a "good student" discount of up to 25 percent. Being a good student generally means maintaining a "B" average and being on the dean's list or honor roll.

11. Account credit: Consumers who insure their homes and autos with the same company could be eligible for a discount of up to 10 percent. Discounts may vary by company.

12. First accident allowance: If a customer achieves five accident-free years, some insurers offer a "first accident allowance," which guarantees that a motorist's rates won't go up after the first at-fault accident.

13. Anti-theft device credits: Discounts of five to 15 percent are offered in some states for autos equipped with a hood lock, and an alarm or a disabling device (active or passive) that prevents the car from being stolen.

14. Sole female driver: Citing favorable claims experience, some companies offer 10 percent discounts for a female, ages 30 to 64, who is the only driver in a household.

15. Non-smokers and non-drinkers: Some companies offer discounts to policyholders who abstain from drinking and smoking.

16. Uninsured motorist (UM) coverage: In states where UM isn't required, consumers with applicable health insurance may choose to decline UM coverage.

17. Optional coverage: Consumers could decide not to purchase medical payments coverage if their health insurance is comprehensive enough to cover potential claims.

Just A Reminder

Remember the correct way to hook up jumper cables: red clamps on positive (hot) terminals, then one black clamp on the negative (ground) terminal of the good battery with the final connection to the engine or frame of the disabled vehicle. This prevents a spark from occurring near a battery, which emits explosive hydrogen gas.

Film Rev.

Sally Field's new film, "Not Without My Daughter" had a timely opening all over the country with the confrontation between an Arab nation and the rest of the world in the top headlines.

Fields plays real life heroine Betty Mahmoody from Michigan who was taken to Iran in 1984 by her Iranian husband for a two week vacation, only to find that he and his family intended that she and her daughter live in Iran and become Moslems.

The cultural difference and a way of thinking indigenous to the Moslem mind was the most frightening part of the story from our viewpoint.

The terror that Fields faces in Iran ranges from being surrounded by men with machine guns because her bangs were showing from under her scarf while she walked on a public street, to being beaten and threatened with death by her husband, to the long trek to Turkey and safety after 18 months of literally being imprisoned by her husband and his family.

It is the threat of death and the thought that her daughter would then be left in Iran for life that finally gives her the courage to escape by car, by truck, by horseback and also by walking over mountain passes to the American Embassy in Turkey.

This one should bring Fields another Academy Award nomination. We rate it five out of five stars.

Cable

Award time for every entertainment media and then some is upon us and the celebrity-studded shows will continue to bore us for the next few months, excepting for the country music awards which somehow seem to go on all year long. This columnist will admit, like most women, she tunes in just to see what the stars are wearing.

With the bulk of tv owners now also cable subscribers, the heretofore comparatively unknown ACE Awards are of interest to more and more of us.

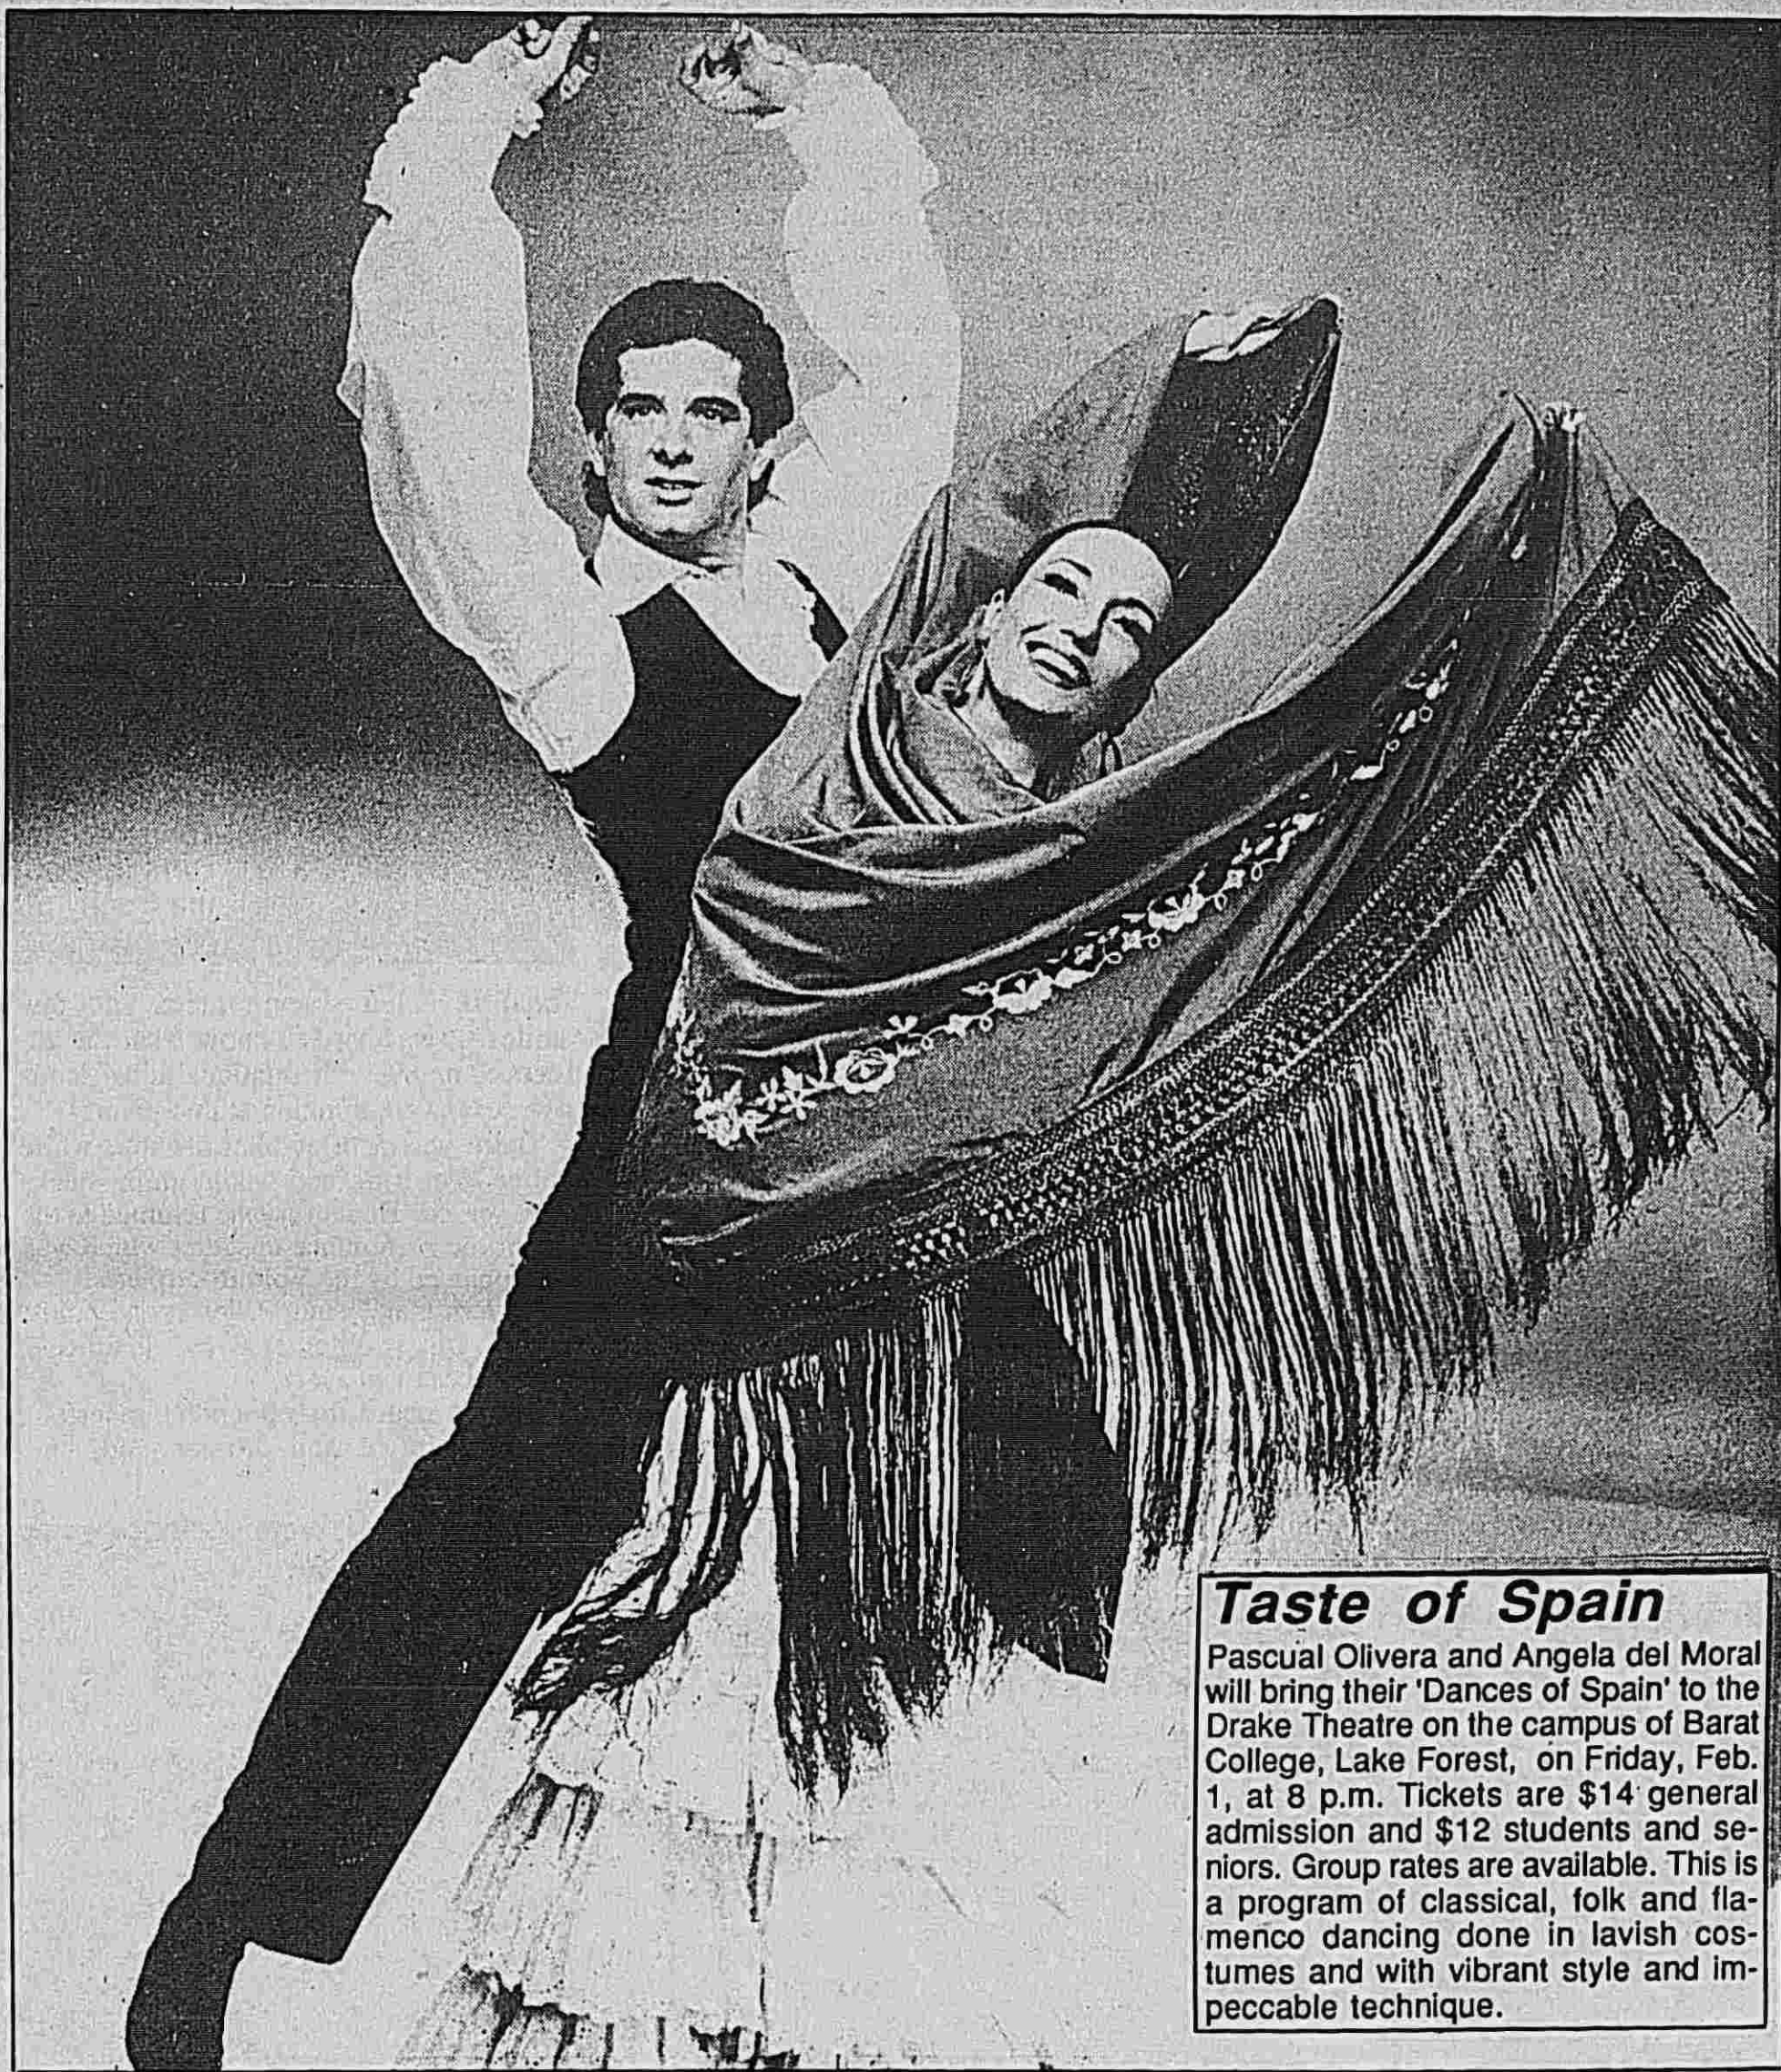

When the 1990 Ace Awards were given out in Los Angeles, HBO (Home Box Office), as usual, walked away with the majority of the awards.

The HBO special "Midnight Train To Moscow," starring Billy Crystal, took four awards with "Tales of the Crypt" taking three.

With other cable networks growing by leaps and bounds and improving their programming, HBO took only a third of the awards it ran away with in previous years.

The off-the-air "Gary Shandling Show" pulled awards for Showtime, while documentaries like the mini-series "Heat Wave," starring Cecily Tyson, did it for the Turner Network and "Frontiers" brought trophies to A&E (The Arts and Entertainment Network).

Multiple award-winning actor James Earl Jones was named best actor for his performance in the A&E series, "Third Oak — The Pool" and Blair Brown's Molly Dodd series brought her the No. 1 dramatic actress award.

Taste of Spain

Pascual Olivera and Angela del Moral will bring their 'Dances of Spain' to the Drake Theatre on the campus of Barat College, Lake Forest, on Friday, Feb. 1, at 8 p.m. Tickets are $14 general admission and $12 students and seniors. Group rates are available. This is a program of classical, folk and flamenco dancing done in lavish costumes and with vibrant style and impeccable technique.

Benny Birthday Bash big benefit

The Jack Benny Center for the Arts will present the fifth annual Benny Birthday Bash! honoring its namesake Feb. 9, at 8 p.m. in Goodfellow Hall, 39 Jack Benny Dr., Bowen Park, Waukegan.

The program will feature an evening of "Vaudeville in Waukegan" and the presentation of the 1991 Jack Benny Arts and Humanities Award.

The Bash! will present Vaudeville favorites from the 19-teens with members of the Faculty and Friends of the Jack Benny Center for the Arts. Skits and sketches, music, dance, and comedy will fill the stage of Goodfellow Hall.

Based on Vaudeville in Waukegan in 1916, the Bash! is a highlighted event of the Waukegan park Dist., which, founded in that year is now celebrating its 75th Anniversary Year.

This year's presentation had its roots in a masters thesis written by Waukegan resident James Neal. Neal is the drama faculty member at the Jack Benny Center and teaches theatre at Viking Junior High School in Gurnee.

His thesis explored the rich history of Vaudeville in Waukegan during the early part of this century, a history which included Jack Benny's young performing career. Benny played violin at the Barrison Theatre in downtown Waukegan.

Bo Carroll, and a host of others. Performances include music and theatre sketches that were made famous by the greats of Vaudeville.

A "hawker" will be at work beginning at 7 p.m. at the center. Soda pop and popcorn will be available, just like in the "good old days."

The 1991 Jack Benny Arts and Humanities Award will be presented to Kenneth W. Smouse. Smouse has been active with the Jack Benny Center for the Arts for the past decade. He was a founding member of Antioch's PM&L Theatre and also works with the Waukegan Community Players.

In 1987 he was named Director of the Bowen Park Theatre Company and Stage Director of the Bowen Park Opera Company. He is currently Director Emeritus of the Theatre Company and continues his work with the Opera Company.

Smouse has been active throughout the County of Lake for many years, directing theatre in high school, college, community and professional settings. He is a performer, singer, and actor with many credits.

Smouse resides in Antioch. He is the third recipient of the award being preceded by former Waukegan Mayor Robert Sabonjian and Author Ray Bradbury.

The Benny Birthday Bash! is a fundraiser for the scholarship endowment fund of the Jack Benny Center. Profits from the Bash! go to support talented students needing financial assistance to study at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts.

Tickets are $25 per person and may be purchased at the Jack Benny Center in Bowen Park. Reservations can be made by telephoning the center at (708)360-4741. Visa and MasterCard are accepted.

Waukegan was an important hub through which literally thousands of famous acts passed, especially between Milwaukee and Chicago. The number of theaters alone that existed in Waukegan for these venues is astounding.

Neal will add dialogue to the many performances given at the Benny Birthday Bash! and give brief commentary on similar acts that passed through Waukegan.

Headliners for the "Vaudeville in Waukegan" production will be Jean Mulligan, Gretchen Stevenson-Poland, Egon Schein, Jerry Emerzian, Christy Geidner-Kirby, Anna Witt-Kite, Jeri Whitson, Darrel Ervin, Sally Peterson, Renee Oliver, Doug Cole, Doug Stiles, Jim Stiles, Benjamin Spangler, Fred Alexson, Julie Lehman, James Neal, Dolores Strazer, Lora Hiney, Rebecca Paz-Stevens,

MAINSTREAM

Anniversary concert draws out the 'folks'

by PAT CHRISTENSEN
Lakeland Newspapers

Before a concert, two audience members overheard.

"I love that coat. What's it made of?"

"It's goatskin and coyote. It's totally recycled."

"It's nice. How do you get one?"

"Well, first, you shoot a coyote."

Strange conversation at a concert? Not this one. The David Adler Center was hosting its 16th anniversary celebration with music and dancing, and it drew a relatively large crowd. Some may have come to escape the war news on their tv's, but most came for the music.

There was more long, straight hair and denim in one room than has been seen in the last several years. There were boots of all kinds, and wool sweaters in abundance. Two princesses in pink calico darted through the crowds of folk aficionados, while a sound man checked the microphones and adjusted the thick black cords that snaked across a carpeted stage.

People continued to drift in to the room at the Libertyville American Legion Hall to sit on metal folding chairs in the dim light of the Pepsi machine in the corner to listen to music from an age their children will only learn about in history books.

Beards were very much in evidence, both bushy and trimmed, most salt-and-pepper hued. Women wore loose peasant skirts, mostly denim, or jeans, and men wore Levi's, cords and long-sleeved, woody work shirts, but several people looked as if they were more familiar with briefcases than banjos.

True to the folk tradition, the sound was unreliable, feedback and dead microphones being the order of the day.

The master of ceremonies, Doug Miller, praised the crowd for "generating such positive energy" and introduced the first act, Bonnie Biehl and Judy Morkrid, a pair of singers with soft boots, long skirts, a concert-pitch guitar and an autoharp.

"North Georgia mountains," they sang, "I crave your protection from a world that's gone mad..." Some members of the audience nod softly.

There were two more ballads and then they were gone, the lady with the black, waving hair and the lady with the short, shining page, to be followed by a trio. This time it was a family act, Marcia, Don, and Mary Mormon, Mother, father, and daughter, with guitars, a dulcimer, and a wooden recorder.

This was followed by two religious songs, with the audience coming in strong on "Just a Closer Walk With Thee." The next duo, Doug and Bonnie Issacson-Miller, carried the theme by opening with "Keep on the Sunny Side of Life."

The Millers were followed by a bluegrass band, the Volo Bogtrotters, who play traditional "foot-stomping" bluegrass. Two numbers were incongruous in this American Legion Hall. One, called the Texas Ranger Song, involved a soldier's experience in a far, far earlier conflict. At one point, the lyrics warn, "And if you have a mother who don't want you to roam, I advise you by experience, you'd better stay at home."

The group's unpolished delivery had the audience so comfortable that by the time they introduced a children's song about wanting to be a tree, the audience had joined them both in spirit and voice.

This number was followed by a song called "Bloody War." A quick check of the room revealed solemn faces and few smiles. It was hard to know what the audience, many with relatives and friends overseas, were thinking at this point.

There was a brief intermission, while coffee, tea, fruit, and whole grain snacks were served. Then everyone returned to the fun of the barn dance upstairs, which was accompanied by the Volo Bogtrotters.

"Modern man," said Miller at one point, "thinks his problems away. Primitive man dances them away."

The bare-board floor pounded underfoot as lines circled and promenaded, and breathless dancers laughed, with startled looks on their faces, as the caller changed the pattern and a new partner swept them away.

When the evening ended many vowed to return. Several spoke about attending the North American Folk Music and Dance Alliance' Third Annual Conference at the Holiday Inn at O'Hare Airport on Jan. 24-17.

Some will only return next year, for the center's 17th anniversary party. But they will come expecting a good time, and they will not be disappointed.

Threats Of Terrorism

Should We Be Afraid To Travel?

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

A meeting in New York last Friday gave me the opportunity to observe first hand the heightened security at both O'Hare and LaGuardia airports.

I honestly feel safer now at our country's airports than before the current situation in the Middle East!

Terrorists, hijackers, and other assorted nuts have always posed a risk that, in my opinion, U.S. airports have never recognized as well as airports in Europe and other parts of the world. It's my hope that this heightened state of awareness to those potential problems remains after the current situation is over.

Security measures now in effect include only ticketed passengers allowed in the gate area, no parking within 100 feet of the airport and extensive questioning when checking baggage, i.e., did you pack your own bag, has it left your sight since packing, did anyone give you something to carry.

In addition to the usual items not allowed on board, security guards are going to ask you to remove the battery from your Walkman.

If you are still concerned, here's what the experts suggest.

Check in as quickly as possible and move to the more secure gate areas. When changing planes, stay in the gate area.

Overseas, avoid American military installations as well as places where large numbers of Americans are known to congregate. Individual American tourists traveling with an unpublished program or itinerary are not likely to be terrorist targets.

I'd like to finish with two thoughts.

Let's not let Hussein dictate your right to travel by his threats making us prisoners of fear.

Support our troops, even if you don't support the war.

Mom Likes To Cook

By Randee Rian

Stews

Winter's cold brings out the need in all of us to mother and be mothered. Food from the past soothes us, for we all hanker after tastes from our childhood. Long, hard workdays and convenience foods have made mother's cooking hard to come by. Enjoy these hearty stew recipes when you're cozily at home on a blustery day.

Bread Bowls "Trenchers"

In early medieval England, before dinner plates were used, food was heaped in shallow bowl-shaped slabs of bread called trenchers. The bread was baked until it was hard enough to hold meaty stews or juicy chunks of meat without leaking. And after the flavorful gravy or meat juices had soaked into the bread, the trencher was eaten, too.

That's the idea behind the bread bowls pictured here. But my bread bowls are made from frozen bread dough, shaped and baked on inverted foil tart pans. These individual bread bowls make novel serving containers for your favorite stew.

To make 8 trenchers, I used 2 loaves of frozen bread dough. Thaw unwrapped for 2 hours. Meanwhile, generously butter the sides and bottoms of 8 inverted 5 inch foil tart pans; set aside.

Divide the loaves into 8 pieces and roll out a piece of dough into a 6 inch circle. Lay over tart pan and mold with your hands. Arrange on a cookie sheet and let stand uncovered for 10 minutes. Repeat for remaining trenchers.

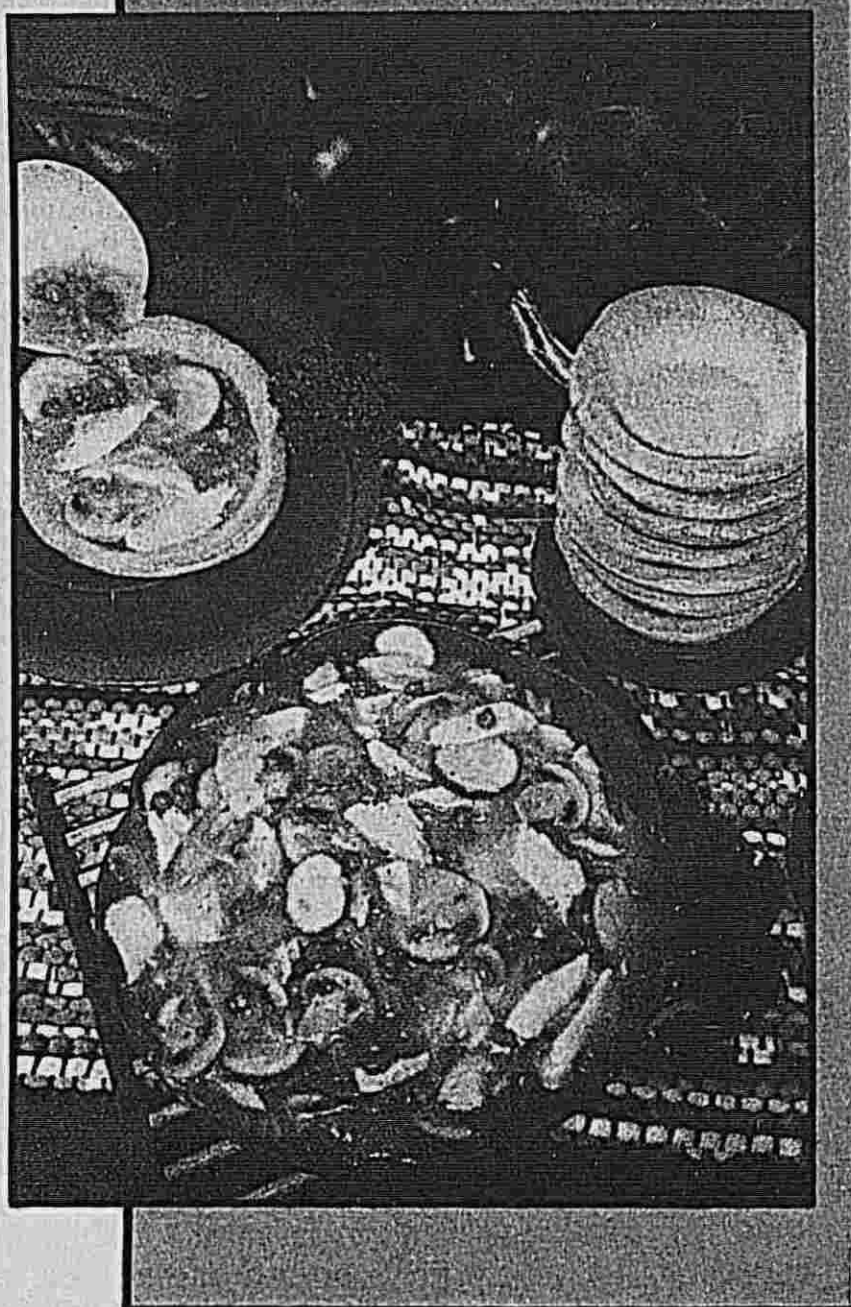

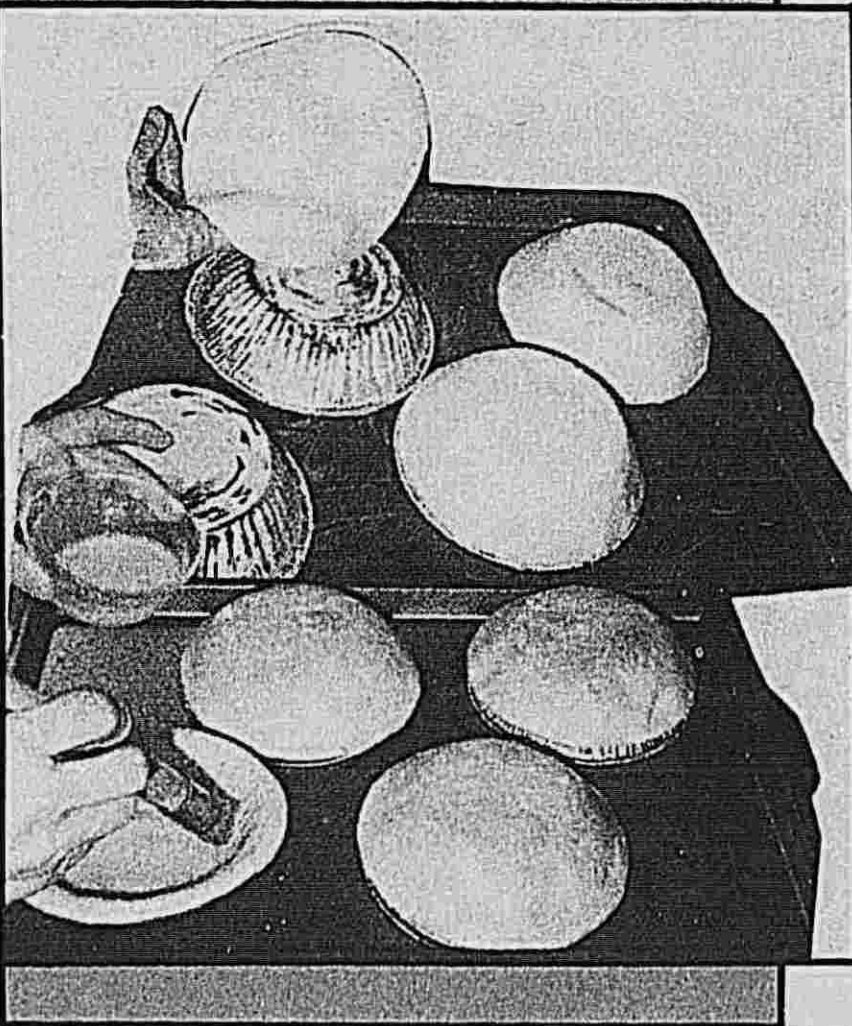

Bake trenchers on tart pans in the center of a 375 degree oven for 20 minutes. If any puff up or begin to flatten out, use a clean hot pad to protect hands and gently press the trenchers back down. After 20 minutes, brush with egg-water glaze; bake 5 minutes longer.

Remove trenchers from oven, turn right-side up and remove pans. Brush the inside with egg-water glaze and bake 10 minutes longer. Cool.

Chicken-Vegetable Stew

Everyone will love this stew - It's comforting, flavorful and makes a good presentation.

3 Tbls. butter

In a stew

Hot and steamy stews, like zesty chicken-vegetable, bring comfort and a cozy feeling to diners in the winter. At left, stew served in edible bowls or trenchers, is a fall-back to medieval times. Making trenchers out of frozen bread dough is innovative touch. — Photos by Randee Rian.

2 cloves garlic, minced
1 large onion, chopped
1/2 lb. fresh mushrooms, sliced
6 cups regular
-strength chicken broth
1/2 tsp. each sage,
rosemary and thyme
2/3 cup cornstarch
2/3 cup water
1 cup celery, sliced
1 pkg. frozen peas and carrots, thawed (10 oz.)
5-6 cups cooked chicken or turkey, cut into large bite-size pieces

1 medium zucchini, sliced into 1/2 inch thick pieces
Melt 3 Tbls. butter in a 4 to 5 quart Dutch oven. Add garlic, onions and mushrooms, cooking till onion is limp. Stir in chicken broth, sage, rosemary and thyme. Heat to simmering.

Meanwhile, smoothly blend together the cornstarch and water. When broth begins to simmer, stir in enough of the cornstarch mixture to desired thickness of the broth. Cook, stirring until mixture boils and thickens.

Stir in celery, frozen peas and carrots, heat to simmering. Then stir in cooked chicken and sliced zucchini. Simmer about 10 minutes, or until zucchini is tender. Makes 3 quarts.

Crocked Kielbasa

The 'crocked' refers to the method of cooking, not the half cup of red wine used. Delicious served over pasta.

1/2 lb. lean ground beef
1 lb. Kielbasa sausage, sliced
1 28 oz. can whole tomatoes, undrained
1 9 oz. pkg. frozen French-cut green beans
1 6 oz. can pitted black olives, drained and left whole
1/2 cup dry red wine
2 cloves garlic, minced

1 medium onion, sliced into thin rings
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 tsp. dried sweet basil, crushed
1 tsp. dried oregano, crushed
1/2 tsp. dried thyme, crushed
1/4 tsp. coarsely ground pepper
1 lb. fusilli or rotelli pasta
4 oz. fresh Parmesan cheese, grated

In a medium skillet saute ground beef. When browned transfer to crockpot. Add all other ingredients (except pasta and Parmesan) and simmer on low for 6-10 hours. Cook pasta according to package directions. Ladle crocked Kielbasa over pasta in large bowls. Pass the Parmesan cheese to garnish. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Superb Venison Stew

For those lucky enough to have some venison to enjoy, this recipe should be added to your collection. The touch of bacon and red wine makes for special flavors.

2 lbs. venison
Pinch of salt
Pepper to taste
3 slices bacon
2 Tbls. butter
3/4 cup finely chopped onions
1/2 cup finely chopped carrots
1 clove garlic, minced
1 bay leaf
Pinch thyme leaves
2 Tbls. flour
2/3 cup dry red wine
1 10-1/2 oz. can beef broth
1 4 oz. can sliced mushrooms, undrained
1 Tbls. juice
Mashed potatoes, rice or pasta

Tenderize venison by pounding or using a meat mallet tenderizer, then cut into 1-1/2 inch squares. Season with salt and pepper. In a heavy skillet fry bacon until crisp; remove, crumble and set aside. Slowly brown venison in bacon drippings on all sides. Add chopped onion, carrot and garlic and cook 5 minutes longer. Add bay leaf, flour and thyme; mix well. Place in buttered 2-1/2 quart casserole and pour wine and beef broth over top. Bake covered at 300 degrees for 2 hours or until tender.

Remove cover, stir in mushrooms and lemon juice; bake 30 minutes longer. Remove from oven and garnish with crumbled bacon. Serve hot over mashed potatoes, rice or pasta.

A crockpot may be used to prepare stew. Cook 10 hours on low heat or 8 hours on high. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Spanish Seafood Stew

An easy-ish version of the famous Spanish Paella. Serve over hot, fluffy white rice, with a crispy green salad and crusty bread. Good!

1/4 cup olive oil or vegetable oil
1/4 cup flour
2 medium celery stalks, diced
1 medium green pepper, diced
1 medium onion, diced
1 clove garlic, minced
1 Tbls. curry powder
1 28 oz. can tomatoes, undrained
1/4 cup water
2-1/2 tsp. sugar
1-1/2 tsp. salt
1 lb. flounder or sole
1 lb. uncooked medium or large shrimp, shelled and deveined

Heat oil in a large saucepan over medium heat. Stir in flour; cook, stirring constantly until flour is dark brown (mixture will be thick). Add celery, green pepper, onion and garlic. Cook until vegetables are lightly browned and tender, stirring occasionally. Stir in curry powder; cook 1 minute. Add tomatoes and their liquid, water, sugar and salt. Heat to a boil, then reduce heat to low; keep warm. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. With sharp knife, cut fish fillets into bite-size chunks. Pour sauce into 2 quart casserole, arrange fish and shrimp in sauce. Bake casserole, uncovered, 30 to 35 minutes until fish flakes when tested with a fork and shrimp are opaque and tender. Makes 6 servings.

Dad takes stand ---with his flag

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspapers

Many Americans are expressing support for U.S. armed forces personnel serving in the Persian Gulf crisis.

Tom Bochniak, 44, whose daughter is a medical technician in an Air Force field hospital in Saudi Arabia, staged a one-man demonstration.

Bochniak, a carpenter, spent 10 hours at a busy intersection waving a large American flag adorned by a yellow ribbon. He wore a yellow armband.

"This was my way of supporting our troops," declared Bochniak to explain his day-long vigil during a brisk winter day.

Recounting his experiences at the corner of Rte. 12 and Grand Ave., Fox Lake, Bochniak remarked, "If you live in America, you have to feel like an American. I felt good when I went home."

Bochniak positioned himself at the intersection at 6 a.m. The first person he encountered was a Fox Lake police officer. "When I explained my purpose, the officer understood immediately and just told me to be careful."

The Spring Grove resident said the reaction of passing motorists was of overwhelming approval. "Passersby would wave and give me the thumbs up gesture. When I would tell them what I was doing they'd say 'right on' and wish me good luck. I recognized some of the cars coming by later in the day to see if I was still there."

Bochniak said people were bringing him hot drinks along with their expressions of support. A nearby restaurant sent over lunch.

"I felt so good I stayed all day," reported Bochniak, who left his post at 4 p.m.

Bochniak said he had only one negative experience all day. "A elderly couple driving a big expensive car gestured thumbs down and then they shouted at me, 'We're not for Bush and we're not for what you are doing.' That's all. Only one bad experience. Everyone else was wonderful."

Bochniak said he and his wife had a telephone call from their daughter, Christine, a few days before hostilities broke out. "She told us, 'We're going to do something,' so I think our troops had a pretty good idea that we'd be going to war soon."

One man's stand for a personal belief. That's how a lot of things get started.

Tom Bochniak

Families responding to free paper offer

Response to an offer for free delivery of their hometown newspaper to troops in the Persian Gulf was instantaneous, according to Publisher William H. Schroeder.

"We started receiving calls as soon as the paper came out," reported the publisher.

Readers of all the Lakeland Newspapers serving Lake County were invited to submit names and addresses of relatives or friends serving in the Middle East who would like to receive a free subscription to their hometown paper.

"If you'd like to take advantage of this free offer, simply call the newspaper office at 708-223-8161 and give us the necessary information for delivery," Schroeder stated.

Free subscriptions are for the duration of hostilities, the publisher declared.

"We feel this service is another indication that the folks back home are supporting our troops. A copy of the paper with all the local happenings is the next best thing to a letter from home," Schroeder stated.

First copies are expected to be delivered in two to three weeks. Free military subscriptions will be available as long as the war continues, the publisher added.

SUPPORT OUR TROOPS WITH NEWS FROM HOME

During Operation Desert Storm, Lakeland Newspapers will send a complimentary subscription of our local newspaper to our men and women in Saudi Arabia.

Show the troops that you care. Just call us with the soldier's name, rank, social security number and branch of service, and we will begin delivering their hometown newspaper immediately and throughout the duration of Operation Desert Storm.

Your support will make a difference.

Call (708) 223-8161 to send your soldier a free subscription of their hometown Lakeland Newspaper.

FAIRBANKS

209-13 FAIRBANKS
By Landmark Designs

Call it a mansion, or call it an estate, with over 10,000 square feet of living space the Fairbanks is clearly a high class home. The combination of colonnaded entrance and rough-hewn stone exterior puts one in mind of the unpretentious solidity of a Roosevelt-era hunting lodge.

The breath-taking 20-foot-wide circular foyer, vaulted to the second floor, serves as a hub offering five choices of direction, and it could take hours to explore all of them. Nothing is little here. Even the hallways are five feet wide.

One of the most unusual features is a 27 foot by 44 foot recreation room, larger than some homes. It includes a row of skylights and a wet bar at the far end, and a recessed fireplace which punches out one side. Fill it with bright lights and twirling dancers and you've got a ballroom. A huge sky-lit spa, with convenient bathroom, and a half-oval-shaped study complete this wing.

Each of the family living areas gathered together at the opposite end of the Fairbanks has its own unique features. The oddly-shaped living room has a fireplace and a bay window, and the formal dining room is a perfect oval. The free-form kitchen has both a cooking island and an eating bar with a vegetable sink.

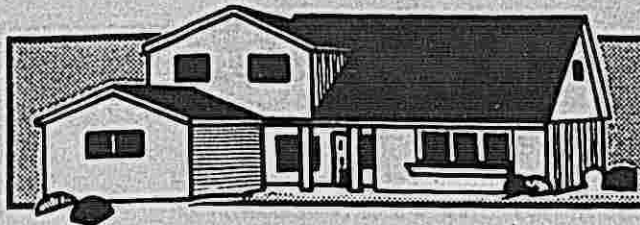

Light from another row of skylights make the nook an ever-cheery space, and a fireplace provides additional warmth in winter. The utility room includes a pull-down ironing board.

Each of the three bedrooms downstairs has its own private bathroom, and two have walk-in closets. These rooms could easily be used as guest or servants' quarters. Three equally lavishly outfitted bedrooms are upstairs (one with a fireplace), along with a small den and an enormous master suite - a home in itself.

In addition to a sleeping space, the suite includes a sitting with adjacent small kitchen, his and her bathrooms (each with a bidet), and his and hers closets. A novel vanity island has a double-sided mirror with basins beneath each side. Twelve-foot-side sliding glass doors open into an elevated spa, and a small sauna adds the final luxurious touch.

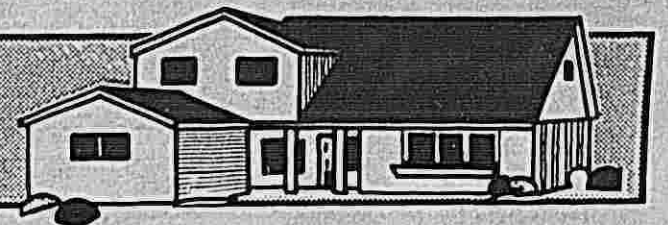

For a study plan of the FAIRBANKS (209-13), send $7.50 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.) Designers, architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) To your surprise, you'll meet some interesting people at a staid get-together. Enjoy increased rapport with friends and loved ones. Business talks go well. It's time to present your ideas to bosses and important clients. Unexpected gains are likely to accrue now.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)
Partners surprise you in delightful ways. You can sell both yourself and your creative projects now. Get in touch with representatives. You'll get satisfaction from helping out a friend. Intellectual work goes well when done from home. Business talks are successful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)
Open the doors of communication between you and a loved one. Then the ideas will really spark! Creative efforts go very well. Put new moneymaking ideas to work. Common sense leads to increased revenues. A relative delights you with an unexpected gift.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)
Children will understand your viewpoints. Flashes of inspiration make you especially creative now.
An impromptu visit is fun! You work successfully from behind the scenes.
Private business talks are productive. Money comes from an unexpected source.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Group activities are favored. Friends stimulate you mentally. New introductions prove to be fascinating. You should socialize more. Productive business talks lead to increased revenues. An influential contact helps you in business. Keep aspirations high.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Both old and new friends are helpful now. Travel has business ramifications. Study and educational matters are favored. You'll get a confidential tip about an investment.
Career opportunity comes unexpectably. Distant friends come to your aid.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You may make some serious commitments. Partners are the source of excitement now, yet they also prove to be stabilizing. An ethical consideration requires you to be tactful regarding a job matter, otherwise it's full speed ahead to accomplishment.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You may take on extra responsibility in connection with a child. Romance is exciting, but the family group needs your consideration. You've got extra push now and are able to tackle some onerous domestic duties. Energy and self-discipline lead to real progress.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You're creative now and able to work without a break. In speaking your mind, try to be considerate of the feelings of others.
Seek durable items while shopping.
When having fun, be careful not to let spending escalate. Seek new opportunities for profit.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Initiative brings you benefits and you'll attract romance,
but a touchy relative is easily hurt.
Late evenings brings good times.
You'll get much accomplished from behind the scenes, but curb an antisocial attitude. Home life is favored, rather than going out.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Take the lead in planning a party. Be sure to attend to social obligations in the process.
Travel may be on your agenda. Extra push brings career benefits. Go after what you want and aim for the top!
A businesslike attitude is best. Don't get too personal.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Travel has both social and business ramifications. An in-law may need your help or advice. Heed the rules of social etiquette. You'll make important decisions regarding joint assets and investments. Don't confide in a prying friend. Confidentiality is best.

Johnsburg will challenge Panthers in NWSC meet

Johnsburg and Round Lake wrestling teams have been in the situation before.

Round Lake comes in to the conference tournament with an unbeaten dual meet record and momentum. Johnsburg is at 6-1 in the NWSC and hoping to get some help from other conference teams. But Round Lake's depth and talent win out in the end and the Panthers come home with the conference crown.

Such was the case last year, and again this year the two teams are 7-0 (Round Lake) and 6-1 (Johnsburg) in dual meets. But this time around, Johnsburg Coach Jim Briscoe is hoping momentum gained by knocking off the state's top Class A team will carry over to the Jan. 26 meet at Grayslake.

"It was a surprise. Harvard was 23-0 and it was an outstanding match. We won all the key matches," Briscoe said.

Johnsburg, the smallest Class AA school in the state, had been pointing to the match at Harvard. They had notched a dual meet win over Grant the night before.

The first key match came at 103 pounds when Hesse Waldeck downed Mark Jones 6-5. Another key battle was at 140 pounds, and Dave Menlich also won a one-point decision, 5-4 over Larry Popp. The final critical battle came at 189. Chris Jankowski had lost to Harvard's Ed Henning twice, but this time won a decision. Don Kibbe earned a pin at heavyweight.

Malecki brings a 21-4 record to Grayslake while Jankowski is 25-5.

Briscoe said the looming sectional at Woodstock is the next hurdle to clear after conference.

"We're really focused on regionals. The top two teams continue wrestling and we have already beaten the Fox Valley Conference schools," he said.

"Johnsburg is right there with us," Round Lake Coach Bob Curran said.

The Panthers lost to Marist but beat Antioch at Grant Saturday. Round Lake had crushed a Marengo team 71-2 Friday to wrap up conference dual meets.

Despite the improving performances of his underclassmen, Wauconda coach Tom Nance expects three of his seniors to carry the most clout in the conference meet.

"We're always short on numbers, but we've got some good individuals," Nance said. "And, our younger kids are improving."

Wauconda is 4-13 overall and 1-5 in league duals.

Wauconda's top wrestlers are 135-pounder Jason Daun (22-3), 171-pounder Chris Rude (18-7) and heavyweight Nate Schroeder (23-2). Sophomore Randy Brill is 12-7 in the 145-pound class.

"Those four have not shown as much improvement as we'd like, but they'll probably place," Nance said. "Schroeder should take first; Daun might take first; and Rude is always a question mark — we're not sure how he'll do."

Nance said he looks for Johnsburg and Round Lake to battle for the team title, with Lake Zurich and Grant "right in there for third and fourth."

"It's a team effort. Now we are wrestling real well," Curran, whose team is 16-4 overall, said.

"Round Lake is the favorite, no question," Grant Coach Don Rowden said.

The Bulldogs come into the meet shooting to finish in the top three. Among the possible contenders for titles are: Tim Mott at 103, Mike Ward at 130, Edgar Lenze at 112, Chris Alex at 145, Bryan Frystak at 171, Tony VanSickle at 189 and Bill Kreps at heavyweight.

Frystak and Van Sickle are the veterans for Grant. Frystak has been on the varsity for three years and Van Sickle for four.

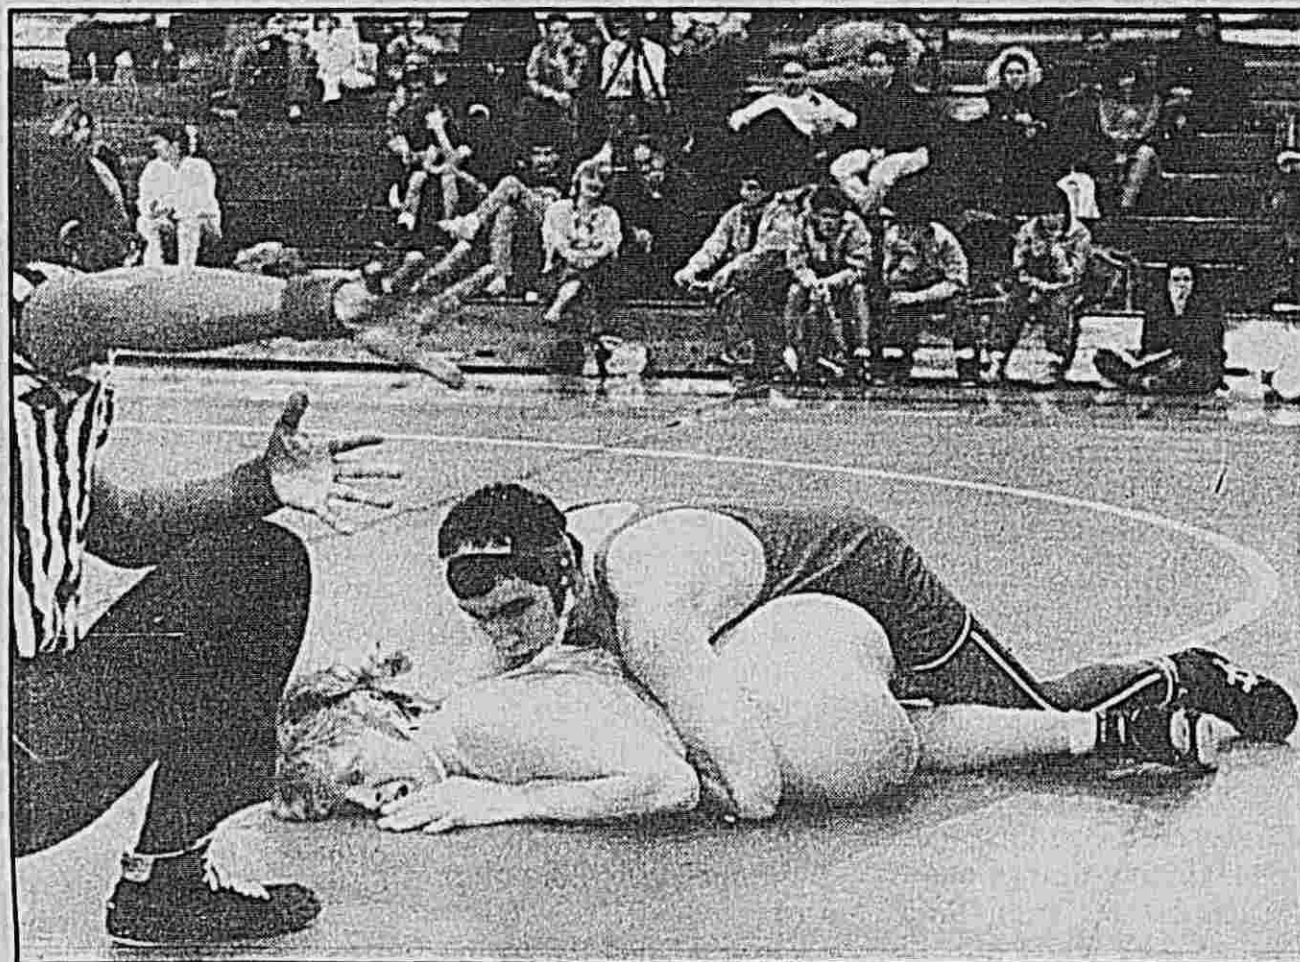

"We hope to finish somewhere in the middle," Grayslake Coach Steve Kushner said. "Lake Zurich and Grayslake can affect the outcome tremendously."

Junior Kurt Onstadt at 125 pounds leads the Rams. Senior Mike Smith was 26-5 heading into last weekend's action at 140 and senior Dion Caliendo at 171 could also contend.

Senior Tom Becker is in his first year of wrestling as a heavyweight, and beat Round Lake's heavyweight last week.

Grayslake has been hurt by forfeiting weight classes this year because it does not have a full squad. The Rams are 1-4 in league duals.

New opponent teaches CHS second-half lesson

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

All the factors appeared to be present for a strong Carmel showing in an East Suburban Catholic Conference contest Friday against Marian Catholic.

•The need to entertain the home folks after a close loss on the road against a league powerhouse.

•The need to break a four loss in six game streak.

•The desire to impress a new conference opponent.

"It was one of the most embarrassing losses we've had here in years," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg lamented after a 74-65 defeat.

Carmel had a roller coaster performance in the second and third quarters which brought its downfall, dropping CHS to 10-5 overall, 4-4 in the ESCC. The Corsairs put on a 22 point show in the second quarter but crash landed to a four-point third quarter.

Carmel's woes continued on rebounding. Junior Pete Eisenbarth is averaging nine rebounds a game, but the next highest is at three.

Eisenbarth led Carmel with 28 points and Chris Mohr had 18. But the next highest was six points.

Marian Catholic, which trailed Carmel in the ESCC standings and had only one league win coming into the game, was led by two 24-point outings from Adam Savick and Rodney Harrison.

Sequoits learn a lesson, edge Scouts in NSC win

The first time Antioch and Lake Forest's basketball teams clashed in the North Suburban Conference this season, the Sequoits would like to tell fans about the first half.

The Sequoits led by as many as 10 points or more in the first 16 minutes at Lake Forest, only to see the Scouts rally for a five-point win.

"We mentioned that at halftime," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said.

Dully warned, the Sequoits maintained a four-point lead in the third quarter and then hit the clutch baskets when they need them in the fourth quarter to pull away to a 57-49 win. The victory helped ease the effects of a 62-55 loss at Libertyville the night before.

Andy Haley led Antioch against Lake Forest with 14 points while Mike Warren had a second straight game of 12 points and Steve Manderscheid added 10.

Paul Pezza, who had led Lake Forest's comeback last month, was held to 13 points. "We did a good job of defense against him," Dresser said.

The Sequoits improved to 6-12 overall, 2-9 in the NSC with the win.

Libertyville was enjoying a double-win weekend. The Wildcats kept their second place standing with a 68-58 win over rival Mundelein Saturday.

Antioch's Dan Mead hit a clutch three-pointer at the end of the third quarter for a 42-38 lead. Lake Forest tied the game twice in the fourth quarter, but never took the lead.

"We played some real good defense," Dresser said of the final stanza.

Against Libertyville, the problem became one of too much Libertyville height. The Wildcats were led by Matt Williams' 21 points and a 27-11 margin at the free-throw line.

Williams also had a strong game against Mundelein, scoring 24 points and Andy Bauer had 14.

Libertyville, 9-2 in the NSC, is at last-place Zion-Benton Jan. 25 while Mundelein hosts Lake Forest.

Antioch hosts Stevenson Jan. 25. The Pats are tied with Libertyville for second place. Their leading scorer, Chris Coleman, is coming off a 38-point outing in an 89-83 win over North Chicago.

"He's a good player, but they are not a one-player team. You can't stop him, you have to just try and control him and keep fresh people on him," Dresser said of Coleman.

Illg's shot, Bears' spurt pave way for victories

What do a buzzer-beating three-point shot, 48 free-throw tries and a fourth quarter spurt all have in common?

All were methods used by Round Lake, Grant and Lake Zurich to claim Northwest Suburban Conference basketball wins last week.

Round Lake used the heroics of Wally Illg to top Marengo 54-53 in the NWSC showdown for first place. The win gave the Panthers a 6-0 league record, 15-3 overall.

Grant topped Johnsburg 70-67 with the free-throw barrage while Lake Zurich used the strong fourth quarter to hold off Grayslake 50-44.

"Marengo made a free-throw to go up by two with six seconds left. We took the ball out on the sideline and had a couple of passes before getting the ball to Wally. He had a couple of people draped all over him. He had a head fake and hit the three-point shot right at the buzzer," Round Lake

Coach Bob Ward said.

The shot was the second clutch shot by the senior, who had 15 points, 11 in the fourth quarter.

"The kids held their composure very well," Ward said.

The Panthers and the Indians are well-known for close clashes with big crowds looking on and this one was no exception.

Round Lake enjoyed a 33-20 lead in the second half, but the Indians rallied. "Burton (Dave) did a good job on Hagen (Joel) and Horn (Garrett) had a good floor game," Ward said.

Pat Lejman, who is averaging 11 points a game, had 15 for Round Lake.

Marengo had a 14-5 advantage on free-throws.

Round Lake looks to keep it up when the Panthers battle last-place Grayslake Jan. 25 at home.

The Rams fell victim to an 18-8 run by Lake Zurich which allowed the Bears to pull out the win. The victory was the Bears second in league play and gave LZ a chance to get out of the cellar.

Lake Zurich, which hosts rival Wauconda in a Pack-The-Place night game Jan. 25, was paced by 19 points from Jeff Anderson. Terry Jones had 11 and Jim Silva 10 for the Rams.

"We played well defensively in the fourth quarter," Lake Zurich Coach Doug Cook said. "We got a lot of transition baskets."

Lake Zurich led 16-7 after one, but the two teams both scored nine points in the second and the Rams got back into the game with a 20-7 third quarter run.

In addition to the Round Lake game, the Rams are at Wauconda Jan. 26 in a 7 p.m. game which was originally a cancelled by a snowstorm.

The Bulldogs, 3-3 in the NWSC, dropped two home games last week after a 10-day layoff because of the cancellation of the Grayslake game.

"It was tough not having a game the last week. We came out cold," Wauconda Coach Dave Gardner said.

Wauconda's main force inside, Scott Suhr, had early foul trouble against the Hurricanes, who led by 10 points after one. Wauconda was more competitive in the second quarter, only to see a 22-14 run by MC settle the issue in the third.

Tom Parker was the main thorn in the side of the Bulldogs as he scored 25 points. Suhr had 15 and George Roberts 11 for Wauconda.

Wauconda then dropped a 69-58 decision to Cary-Grove. Wauconda led 13-8 after one, but Cary took charge with a 22-9 and 19-13 runs in the second and third quarters.

Suhr and Demetri Hernandez led Wauconda, 8-8 overall, with 13 points. Junior Jason Clark contributed 10 points coming off the bench.

"He is small, but he knows how to get in there for rebounds," Gardner said.

Grant's free throws net needed win over rivals

When a team loses a basketball game by 55 points, it has a tendency to shake the confidence level.

Especially when it is the third loss by a wide margin in a week.

That was the situation confronting Grant when the Bulldogs hosted Johnsburg Friday. But Grant used just enough free-throws and a strong games from three starters for a 70-67 win.

"It was a good and needed win," Grant Coach Tom Maple said. "We were all in a state of shock after losing three games the week before." The defeats included a 88-33 humbling by Woodstock.

Grant improved to 3-4 in the NWSC, 10-8 overall, with the win. The Bulldogs host Marengo Jan. 25.

"We used the x's and o's to get better shots," Maple said.

Jason Amedio led the Bulldogs with 20 points and Grant's Rick Twarowski had 15 points and overcame an ankle injury. Twarowski did not start the game. "I let him warm up and he said he did not deserve to start. He played with some pain and played a nice game," Maple said.

Grant opened up a 10-point lead, only to see the Skyhawks rally. "Amedio hit several key baskets in the second half," Maple said.

John Eiduke topped his record for assists with 15 and had 11 points.

Grant made half of its 48 free throws, outscoring Johnsburg 24-3 from the charity stripe.

Erich Hoffmann, a junior guard, proved to be the main force for Johnsburg, scoring 26 points.

Johnsburg Coach Jeff Lewiston has a pleasant problem these days as he has three basically equally talented guards to choose from. Hoffman, Keith Boon and Mike Hermann all take turns directing the offense. Hoffmann scored 26 Friday, but he did not start.

"We have a good guard rotation with Hermann, Boon and Hoffmann," Lewiston said. "We have three pretty good guards. It's a nice problem to have."

The problems were not nice for Johnsburg in the second half as the Skyhawks slipped to 2-5 in the league, 11-6 overall.

"I told the kids this was where we started out nine-game winning streak to close out the end of last year. But we just did not get the job done," Lewiston said.

The Skyhawks found themselves caught up in a numbers game. Four players fouled out and another starter was injured. "I was not happy with our defensive play. They adjusted to the physical game better than we did," Lewiston said.

Johnsburg is at Marian Central Jan. 25 and hosts rival McHenry Jan. 26.

Oakton edges CLC men by one for second time

One could forgive the College of Lake County men's basketball team for feeling a little snakebitten when they battle Oakton.

The Red Raiders handed the Lancers a one-point defeat for the second time this year, 77-76. The loss dropped CLC to 2-2 in Skyway Conference play after the Lancers had won their first two league games.

"It was anybody's game. We wanted to throw the ball as far as we could and catch it and take a couple dribbles. Zackery (Markus) was standing five to six feet beyond half-court but the pass went over his head." CLC Coach Bruce Smith said. "It was a hard-fought game for both sides."

Oakton had grabbed the lead with 23 seconds left, but missed free throws to give CLC a chance.

Zackery led CLC with 20 points and Corey Statham added 19. Ryan Coskey contributed 13 points, and Alvin Horton had 11 points and 13 rebounds.

CLC is at Oakton Jan. 31 in Sijway Conference play.

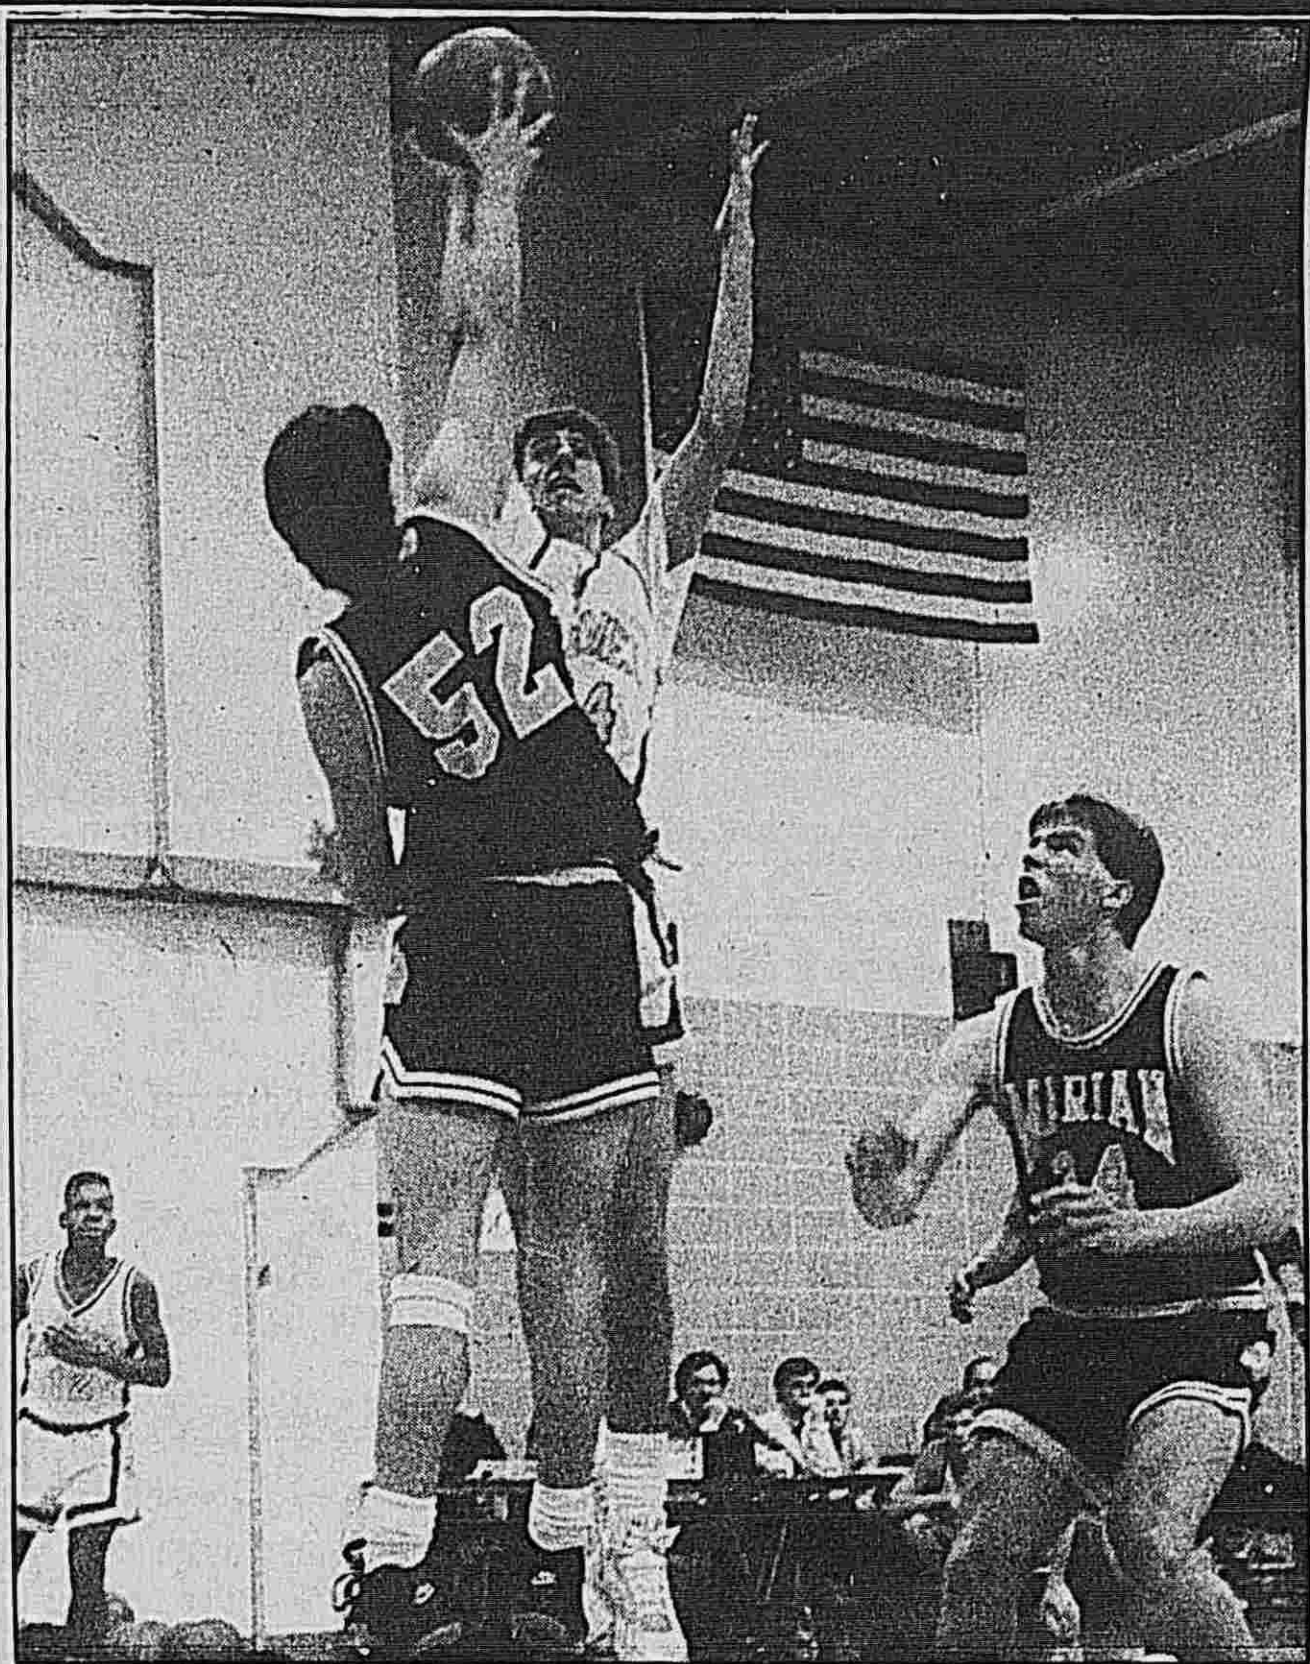

The Lancers had suffered their first conference loss, 93-82 to Truman. CLC rallied midway through the second half, only to see Truman gain the final surge. Zackery was the high scorer for CLC with 25 points, while Statham had 18. Horton 15 and Cokey 10.

Truman outscored CLC 24-6 from the free-throw line.

The Lancer women's team also had its troubles in the Skyway last week, losing to Oakton 61-54 and Truman 71-56.

Against Oakton, Caryn Alexander led with 23 points, while Susan Spiller had 17. But the next highest scorer had five points.

Always Ready for ADVENTURE

How to uncomplicate your outdoor camping trip

Some people would just as soon live in the woods all year, preferring camping out over city lights, over their nine-to-five jobs, over just about anything. Then there are those who don't quite get it. Their idea of roughing it is room service at the Holiday Inn.

But there's something about getting out there in the outdoors that is so therapeutic, so refreshing, that those who enjoy it can't help trying to share it with those who haven't caught on yet. The single most influential reason some people camp and some don't may be the tents.

Even for those who are willing to put up with a few inconveniences in exchange for some precious time with Mother Nature, some tents are just a nightmare. You know the ones: stakes here, rope there, poles everywhere. Where's the door? Who brought the instructions?

The camper tackling one of these monster shelters has a battle on his hands.

But this is the technology age and much to the benefit of campers and campers-to-be, new design innovations abound in the outdoor industry, especially regarding tents.

Canvas is out. Guy wires are out. Massive quantities of mystery poles are out. What's in are lightweight nylon free-standing tents supported by lightweight, yet durable fiberglass poles. The best part about this new breed of tents is that they're easy to set up.

For instance, one company, Daisy, has come out with a tent design that is so quick and easy to set up that they've dubbed it Quick Pitch.

Erecting the tent is as simple as unfolding the fabric, which already has the poles threaded throughout, pulling a hub here and a hub there, and you're ready to move in. These tents actually go up in about 30 seconds.

Modern technology still hasn't brought room service and HBO to America's rustic campsites, but it's licked the family tent dilemma. So the next time you plan an outdoor excursion with a friend or your family, remember that you don't have to spend half your trip setting up your shelter. Purchase a quick and easy tent and spend your prized time doing what you're out there for—enjoying the great outdoors.

Seniors fight for right to hold onto dreams

by PEDER LARSEN
Dreams are the touchstones of our character—
Thoreau

Many senior citizens found, when they were younger, their dream house or plot where they built a home, raised the children and hoped to stay when they grew old. They did not see the black, suffocating cloud looming far back, but getting closer year for year and now heavier than ever, and being a real threat to almost half the people in our country. The senior citizens, the poor, the sick fighting to pay medicine and doctor bills. We senior citizens need more compassion from

Senior View

Lake County's tax board, from the village boards, and Wauconda Assessor Doris Widener. John Tarkowski, according to a letter in the Leader, Jan. 4, didn't not get much compassion from her — "If you don't like the assessment, sell and move out." Mr. Tarkowski knew this option. It's very obvious that our representatives in the House and Senate have lost touch with senior citizens, but not with themselves, after all they took a raise.

The people in government in the state and county have to come up with provisions to help senior citizens from losing their homes due to overwhelming taxes. Senior citizens do fight for lower taxes whether you are a property owner or a renter. Wake up and fight for your future. Nobody else does. For a start call the governor, or write a letter expressing your concern over Lake County taxes, one of the highest in Illinois, hoping he can come up with some relief.

To whomever feels the pressure of new taxes and senses the black, looming cloud overshadowing their "golden years," I can only say let the village, country, state and governor, plus congressmen know the way you feel before you put your house up for sale. By the help of god, someone might listen to us.

Alzheimer's respite aide training program offered

The Lake County Health Dept., in conjunction with the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Association, will host a two session Alzheimer's Respite Aide Training Program beginning Jan. 26, at the Lake County Health Dept., 3010 Grand Ave., Waukegan.

The sessions will be held at the office on Saturday, Jan. 26 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the second session will be held on Feb. 2 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Respite aides can make a major contribution to families by both caring for the person in need and providing "respite" (rest and relief) for the primary caregiver. A respite aide is an independently employed individual hired by a family to provide supervision and companionship to a patient with Alzheimer's disease or a related disorder. The aide is not expected to do housekeeping, heavy lifting or administer medications.

To qualify for the training program, an individual must be responsible, honest, patient, compassionate, and have good communication skills. For applications and further information about the program, contact Carol Kallish at the chapter office: (708)933-2414.

Three CLC administrators named to leaders program

Three College of Lake County administrators have been chosen to participate in the "National Institute For Leadership Development" program. It is a national leadership training program for two-year college women administrators/faculty.

The three administrators are Connie Romine, of Gurnee, director of Resources Development; Gaylis Ingram, of Waukegan, director of the Counseling Center; and Joan Meginniss, of Grayslake, director of Adult Education.

As part of the year-long program, a special workshop for "leaders" is designed to enhance the skills that are needed to assume major decision-making roles in two-year institutions. The workshop includes instruction and practice in supervisory and human relations skills, planning and budgeting, organizational transformation and discussions with national experts on the issues confronting higher education during the next decade.
